Russian Radar New Construction Worries Military

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is asking Russia about some puzzling construction and radar developments to make sure they do not violate the nuclear arms limitation agreement, administration sources say.

These sources stressed there is no evidence of any Soviet cheating but that "we are approaching the Russians on certain ambiguities, certain things they are doing."

In recent months, U.S. reconnaissance satellites reportedly have picked up photographic evidence that the Russians are building something that looks as though it could be new ICBM silos.

Sources also said the United States is asking the Russians about signs that they are developing a new mobile radar that some experts think could be used in connection with the Soviet antimissile system.

Presumably Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will discuss the matter with the Russians during his Moscow talks.

The 1972 interim agreement on strategic offensive weapons forbids the construction of any additional launching silos for intercontinental ballistic missiles beyond those in place or being built as of July 1, that year. "Something is being constructed," said one administration source, describing the number as small.

"They say it is for command and control," he added, indicating the United States already has had some discussions with the Russians.

There is nothing in SALT agreement to bar new underground bunkers for controlling the Soviet missile force.

The 1972 U.S.-Soviet treaty limiting antimissile systems states specifically that "each party undertakes not to develop, test, or deploy ABM systems or components which are sea-based, air based, space based, or mobile land based."

There was some opinion that the new radar is designed to improve Russian anti-aircraft defenses, rather than the Soviet ABM system.

Deserters Could Quit, Escape Cost

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Military deserters processed under President Ford's clemency offer could quit the public service jobs they agree to work and would likely face no criminal action, a military spokesman said Tuesday.

U.S. Marine Corps Lt. Dale Baird, public affairs officer for the President, said the only thing binding a deserter to the alternate service is "his word of good faith."

Baird, information officer at the nation's only processing center for war resisters, said such persons would not be subject to prosecution.

"We only have his word—his good faith pledge—that he will stay at the job for the time he's suppose to serve," Baird said.

"If we get thousands who quit their jobs, something will have to be done," he said.

Baird said less than one-third of the 12,000 deserters eligible for the conditional amnesty have indicated an interest in accepting the President's offer.

He said more than 50 deserters a day are being processed at the Joint Processing Center at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

"We've had 3,899 calls," he said, but only 1,327 have surrendered to authorities.

"I look for the big push to come in January. A lot of people in Canada are holding off" to see the treatment given those who accept amnesty, Baird said.

sales. "I think Mr. Butz should be fired."

"I am in favor of selling our surplus. But not until we get prices down at home."

Luken, the third Democrat to be elected in the heavily Republican district this century, is seeking reelection to a full term. He is opposed by Gradison, the Republican he defeated in a special election last spring. Both are former Cincinnati mayors.

"The first thing we had to do was get rid of Mr. Nixon," Luken said in the debate. "I think we performed that with great honor."

"I think that this country has needed a restraining hand, and I think Congress has provided it."

In Hamilton, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate John Glenn, said he believes his background in the physical sciences and in technology in the U.S. space program will enable him to make a unique contribution if he is elected.

Glenn is opposed by Republican Ralph Perk, the Mayor of Cleveland. Glenn said there is currently no senator who has any background in those fields.

Defense Lawyers Attack John Dean's Credibility

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former White House counsel John W. Dean III testified at the Watergate cover-up trial today that in 1972 and 1973 he made personal use of $4,850 withdrawn from a $350,000 secret White House fund.

The admission was drawn out in cross-examination by defense lawyer John J. Wilson in an apparent effort to discredit Dean's character before the eyes of the jury.

In two days of cross-examination, Wilson has yet to attack the substance of Dean's narration of how he participated for nine months in covering up the Watergate scandals.

Defense lawyers acknowledge privately that six White House tapes heard by the jury so far make it difficult to dent the testimony given by Dean during five days on the witness stand under prosecution questioning.

Dean testified in detail before the Senate Watergate committee about his personal use of money from the White House fund. Its significance in the trial is how it affects the jury's opinion of his character and honesty.

Under cross-examination today, Dean testified that $15,200 in cash was delivered to his office by White House aide Gordon Strachan.

Dean told the jury that on Oct. 12, 1972, the eve of his honeymoon, he took out $4,850, part of which was spent on the trip and part of which was used for miscellaneous expenditures over the next six months.

Wilson repeatedly questioned Dean about the propriety of using the funds without advising anyone at the White House.

"For a period of six months you used money that didn't belong to you, didn't you?" Wilson asked.

Dean: "Yes, sir." Dean's blonde wife, Maureen, was present in the courtroom as he described the use of the funds.

The former White House counsel acknowledged that although he placed a $4,850 check written to cash in his office safe with the balance of the funds, there was not an adequate balance in his checking account to cover that amount.

Dean said, however, that he had other personal funds, including a stock brokerage account totaling $80,000 at one point, which he was prepared to use to account for the $4,850.

Dean said that in April 1973, he informed his lawyer about the $4,850 and the more than $10,000 remaining in the cash originally placed in his White House safe.

Dean said the total $15,200 is now held in a noninterest bearing account in a bank in suburban Rockville, Md.

Meanwhile, there was an indication Tuesday that former President Richard M. Nixon may testify in the trial. His attorney, Herbert J. Miller, asked for transcripts of White House tape recordings used in the trial so Nixon can prepare his testimony.

Nixon has been subpoenaed by defendants Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, and Miller told U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica in a motion:

"It... may be anticipated that he will be questioned in detail about events and conversations extending back at least 2½ years."

Miller said the tapes will be part of the court record by the time Nixon testifies and that the request "represents a reasonable, simple accommodation, making it possible for Mr. Nixon to begin at once the necessary and helpful refreshing of his memory."

Wilson said Tuesday he plans to question Dean about his personal use of $4,850 from a secret $350,000 White House political fund.

Dean has testified previously that without telling White House superiors he withdrew the cash in hopes of using it for a honeymoon trip to the Caribbean. He later repaid it.

In Tuesday's testimony, Wilson drew an admission from Dean that while the original Watergate burglars were being tried in January 1973, he shredded two notebooks, which came from the White House safe of E. Howard Hunt Jr.

Hunt, then among the original seven Watergate defendants, had compiled names and addresses of men who had helped in the 1971 break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, according to Dean's testimony.

The former White House counsel said he shredded the notebooks because he had known of the Ellsberg (Continued on Page 2)

KSU Trial Challenges Slated

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Preemptory challenges today removed three of the 12 tentatively seated jurors in the trial of eight former Ohio National Guardsmen indicted in the 1970 Kent State University shootings, but two were replaced quickly.

A challenge by the defense led to dismissal of Ralph L. Rumsey of Avon Lake, an air traffic controller at Oberlin. Government challenges brought dismissal of Jessie McGuire of Grafton, a butcher and parttime farmer, and Paul Bechtel of Bucyrus, a county worker there.

Tentatively seated were Thomas Hallauer of Elyria, a heating plant engineer at nearby Oberlin College, and Christine Stroup, a housewife in the Akron suburb of Mogadore.

One of the jurors called as a possible replacement from the original pool of 125 was dismissed by U.S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti when she answered negatively to his question as to whether she considered the defendants innocent until proven guilty.

The government has six of the challenges by which a prospective juror may be rejected without the challenging attorney giving a reason. The defense has 10, but Battisti has said that because of the large number of defendants, he may grant more if necessary in the interests of justice.

The government challenged one man because he is a member of the National Guard. Another was challenged because he said in answer to a question that if he were the prosecutor in the trial, he wouldn't present the case to a jury of 12 persons of the same frame of mind as his.

Two jurors were seated tentatively Monday, the first day of the trial. They were Ralph L. Rumsey of Avon Lake, a Federal Aviation Administration air traffic controller at Oberlin, and Constance Hillson, a 23-year-old housewife from suburban Garfield Heights.

The tentative panel was completed Tuesday with the selection of Alex Gross, a University Heights insurance agent; Paul Mack, a truck driver for a Cleveland department store; George Muntean, 52, a Strongsville toolmaker; Patrick Misanko, 21, an Akron rubber worker; William Pinter of Euclid, a medical photographer for a Cleveland hospital;

Jessie McGuire of Grafton, a butcher and parttime farmer; Paul Bechtel of Bucyrus, a county worker;

Louis Quintero, a former Glenn campaign volunteer who was to open offices in the Spanish-speaking sections of Youngstown, Cleveland and Toledo. The warrants contend Quintero wrote bad checks totaling $65,000 allegedly for repayment of loans he obtained in Glenn's name.

Glenn's campaign manager, Stephen J. Kovacic Jr., responded to Perk's letter quoting portions of an editorial in the Cleveland Press on Tuesday:

"It is perhaps natural that ...Perk would hop on this issue, especially since the Perk campaign is sagging badly (according to all the polls.)"

"We hope Perk doesn't try to ride this side issue all the way to election day. This election is going to be decided on the issues and on the voters' perception of the candidates' qualities ...And Perk should know better than to imply that it changes Glenn's record for integrity."

Both candidates are invited to appear at a journalism society meeting for a debate tonight in Columbus.

Rep. John Ashbrook, a Republican in Congress since 1960, told his Democratic opponent in the 17th

Gladys Dillon, a Mansfield housewife; Reisha Shapiro, a University Heights secretary and bookkeeper, and Janice Jackson of Akron, head teller for a savings and loan association.

The defense challenged Misanko because he is a student at the University of Akron, where he is studying business administration. The challenge was overruled.

The eight defendants were indicted last March 29 by a federal grand jury that spent nearly three months investigating the shootings.

They are charged with willfully assaulting and intimidating student demonstrators by firing weapons in their direction and with violating their constitutional right not to be deprived of liberty without due process of law.

Four students were killed and nine wounded by National Guard troops May 4, 1970, during a confrontation between the guardsmen and demonstrators protesting U.S. military involvement in Cambodia.

Sheriff Probes Shooting Incident

One person is hospitalized and another injured slightly as a result of a shooting incident that occurred about 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Walnut Twp.

Admitted to University Hospital, Columbus, with a bullet lodged in his head is Ray Meade.

The shooting is still under investigation Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff reports.

The sheriff's department received an operated-assisted call at 7:23 p.m. Tuesday in which a hysterical sounding voice screamed "They're going to shoot us." A few minutes later another call reported shots were fired at the Robert Meade residence on the Ashville-Fairfield Road just east of Walnut Twp. School.

The sheriff's department rushed three cars to the scene where they found Raymond Meade with the wound in the head and Barbara Lunsford with a superficial wound to the leg. Raymond's wound is apparently not serious, Sheriff Radcliff said.

Conflicting statements of persons involved in the shooting have made it difficult to complete the investigation Radcliff said today.

Apparently an argument developed between A. J. Case, who occupies a part of the residence, and the Meades. Case, who is blind, feared for his life and rushed to the second floor of his portion of the residence. There he grabbed a gun and began firing down the stairs. Two of the bullets found their marks.

Robert Meade, who is accused of larceny by fraud by the Ohio Department of Welfare, was arrested by the sheriff and placed in custody under $5,000 bond.

Radcliff says no charges have been filed yet in the shooting.

Urge Sharing Of Credits

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A plan to refuse corporations 7 per cent investment tax credits unless they shared new capital with workers was advanced to President Ford Tuesday as a new weapon in the war against inflation, Mayor Ralph Perk said.

Perk said he suggested the measure to Ford on the ride from Cleveland Hopkins Airport downtown, where Ford addressed a $500-a-plate Republican fund raiser.

"He said he likes the idea," the mayor grinned. "He wants me to itemize it and get it over to the White House as soon as I could."

Perk said his proposal would allow workers to own part of a company and become capitalists. He claimed the plan could raise $25 billion for industry while tightening tax loopholes such as oil depletion allowances.

The mayor did not explain how corporations would share new capital with workers.

He said the program would work because "it doesn't make the rich poorer but makes the poor rich."

Papadopoulos Arrested In Greece

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Former dictator George Papadopoulos and four of his closest associates have been arrested and exiled to a remote part of Greece on charges of plotting to regain power, the government announced today.

The announcement said those arrested with Papadopoulos were his former deputy premiers, Stylianos Patakos and Nicholas Makarezos; one of the hard-line ministers in his regime, Ioannis Ladas; and the former chief of the central intelligence agency, Michael Roufoglalis.

Authoritative sources said the five men were taken to the small island of Kea, about 60 miles southeast of Athens.

The government's announcement said Papadopoulos and the other four "undertook conspiratorial activity, creating anxiety and the conditions conducive to the disturbance of public peace and order," at the time of upcoming parliamentary elections.

The elections — Greece's first in more than 10 years — have been scheduled for Nov. 17 by the reform regime of Premier Constantine Karamanlis.

The announcement also indicated that more charges will probably be filed against the five men. It said their confinement made it impossible for them to escape from Greece while the leaders of the military dictatorship are being investigated.

The government announced Tuesday that Papadopoulos has been under house arrest for the last three weeks "for making conspiratorial moves." There have been persistent reports that leaders of the ousted military regime were plotting to make a comeback.

Charges Traded In Ohio Political Drives

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. Rep. Thomas Luken, D-Ohio, demanded that top former Nixon officials leave the Ford Administration, and his Republican opponent Willis D. Gradison Jr. charged that Luken's voting had supported inflationary measures.

Luken, following a debate with Gradison Tuesday at the University of Cincinnati, called for the firings of U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, Postmaster General E. T. Klassen, Treasury Secretary William Simon and Federal Energy Administration chief John Sawhill.

Gradison hit Luken's proposals to cut military spending and added that while he was for cutting government spending, "where I am talking about millions, Mr. Luken is talking about billions."

"I want to know where the cuts are coming so I am sure that they will not hurt the security of the country."

"We have Nixon advisors still doing the same thing they were doing when Nixon was in office," said Luken, referring to the new Soviet wheat

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market fell broadly in moderate trading today, led by auto stocks and glamor issues.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 14.63 at 648.23 at noon, and issues falling in price outnumbered gainers by 3-1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said profit-taking was spurred by concern over government reports issued Tuesday showing a drop in durable goods orders accompanied by a 1.2 per cent climb in consumer prices for September.

Avon Products led the Big Board actives, off 1 3/4% at 22 1/2% including a 99,900-share block at 22 1/2%.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was off 0.58 at 69.15.

Motor stocks were especially weak among the most-actively traded issues, reacting to lower earnings, sales and production levels being reported. General Motors declined a point to 33 1/2, Ford 1 3/4 to 31 1/2, and Chrysler 5/8 to 10 1/2.

Ohio GOP Voters Urged To Turn Out

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—President Ford says he doesn't believe it, but "the word is out...(that) Ohio Republicans are not going to vote this year.

"They are turned off by politics," Ford told a Republican fund raising dinner Tuesday night. "They are going to sit this one out."

Urging party members to get out and vote to "send a message" to Congress in support of his anti-inflation program, Ford said for party members to fail to vote would be "akin to setting fire to your house to keep warm."

He plugged Republican Mayor Ralph J. Perk, who is running for the U.S. Senate, calling him a "great team player who deserves to be elected the next U.S. senator from Ohio."

Perk was among party dignitaries on hand to welcome the President. Missing from the group was former Gov. James A. Rhodes, the party's nominee for governor.

Rhodes, who has opposed Ford's 5 per cent surtax proposal, was attending a fundraising affair at Batavia.

Ford disappointed Ohio football fans by saying that because of a conflict with his upcoming trip to the Far East, he won't be able to attend the Michigan-Ohio State game at Columbus Nov. 23.

In another reference to football, he urged Americans to "make politics a spectator sport.

"If we can get 85,000 people out on Saturday to watch Ohio State win, why can't we get five million Buckeyes to come out on Nov. 5 to help America win?" he asked.

About 300 persons paid $500 a plate to attend the dinner at the Sheraton-Cleveland Hotel.

break-in since May or April of 1972.

Dean said that when assistant U.S. attorneys began asking him about the Hunt notebooks, he discovered they had been transferred to his own office safe from Hunt's White House safe shortly after the June 17, 1972, burglary at Democratic National Committee headquarters.

"You did not turn them over to the prosecutors?" Wilson asked about the notebooks.

Dean: "No sir, I destroyed them." Dean had said that in perusing the notebooks' pages, he saw no names or addresses he recognized and Wilson asked why, then, Dean placed them in his office shredder.

"I had been told there was information in them related to the individuals Mr. Hunt had used in the break-in at Dr. Ellsberg's psychiatrist's office," Dean replied. Wilson later asked, "Were you consciously making a move to cover up the Ellsberg burglary?"

Dean answered that he knew Hunt had pleaded guilty to the later break-in and that former acting FBI director L. Patrick Gray III also had destroyed other contents of Hunt's safe given him by another defendant, Ehrlichman.

Dean said, "I just went along and did the same thing, knowing that I was destroying material relating to another White House problem."

Wilson pressed further, asking again whether Dean were not covering up the Ellsberg burglary by personally deciding to shred the notebooks.

"Yes sir, I was," Dean said, adding, "I was just getting rid of something I didn't know how to handle so I threw them in the shredder and hoped the problem would go away."

Defense lawyer Wilson also elicited Dean's description of persuading California attorney Herbert W. Kalmbach to raise funds for the original Watergate defendants.

Wilson asked Dean whether, in addition to paying family expenses and lawyers' fees, the purpose of the money as described to Kalmbach was to "keep the mouths of these people shut."

Dean answered, "Yes, sir."

On trial with Ehrlichman and Haldeman are former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson. All are charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice; all but Mardian with obstruction of Justice; and Mitchell, Haldeman and Ehrlichman with various counts of lying to investigators.

Meanwhile, the jury also heard the sixth White House tape to be played in concert with Dean's testimony.

The tape records an April 16, 1973, meeting during which Nixon is heard nervously attempting to arrange Dean's resignation as White House counsel.

Dean agrees to prepare a letter of resignation for use when needed, but repeatedly tells Nixon that Haldeman and Ehrlichman, then Nixon's closest aides, must quit, too.

Of Ehrlichman and Haldeman, Dean tells Nixon, "I think there is a mythical belief ... that they don't have a problem, Mr. President."

"And I'm, I'm really not sure you're convinced they do, but I'm telling you they do."

Two weeks later, Dean was fired and Haldeman and Ehrlichman resigned with praise from Nixon as two of the finest public servants he had ever known.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies are searching for a thief who took a motorcycle from the front porch of the Route 1, Williamsport, home of William B. Houser about 3 a.m. Tuesday.

Houser told deputies he chained the front wheel to the fork of the 1974 750cc Honda, valued at $2,200, and placed the bike on his front porch.

Rains Fall In Southwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms were scattered across much of the Southwest today and rain spotted other sections of the nation.

The National Weather Service said a high flash flood potential existed in Arizona. The rain extended from Southern California into several Plains states.

Showers and thunderstorms also stretched from the Texas Panhandle into northeast Kansas.

In El Paso, Tex., hail the size of small oranges — some of it 3 1/4 inches in diameter — damaged several homes and automobiles. No injuries were reported.

Parts of New York and the Southeast, including Florida, also were soaked by scattered storms.

Skies were cloudy over the Great Lakes region and New England. But the rest of the nation generally had clear skies.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 22 at Kalispell, Mont., to 75 at Corpus Christi, Tex.; Miami, Fla., and Vero Beach, Fla.

Clay Wade Bridge Open

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Clay Wade Bailey Bridge over the Ohio River between Cincinnati and Covington, Ky., was to be reopened at 1 p.m. today, eight years after it was closed.

U.S. 25, 42 and 127 will be rerouted over the span, which is named for a Frankfort, Ky., newsman.

The old bridge, called the C&O, was closed to traffic in 1968 following an inspection of all Ohio River spans brought on by the Silver Bridge collapse.

The railroad portion of the bridge remained in service and highway traffic was rerouted over Interstate 75.

The rerouting left Cincinnati and Covington with daily traffic backups on the interstate during rush hours.

The new span will have three lanes. The center lane will be for northbound traffic during morning hours and southbound traffic in the evening.

Citizens Headquarters Open To Promote Teays Valley Bond Issue

COMMUNITY SUPPORT—Mrs. Vaughn Herdman and Mrs. Bill Trego, left and right rear, are manning the campaign headquarters for the Teays Valley "Taxpayers for Good, Basic Education Committee". The office, located over the Citizens Bank in Ashville, is dedicated to help citizens better understand the bond issue which will appear on the ballot Nov. 5. High school principal Bill Toney, also pictured, is chairman of the committee.

Campaign headquarters for the Teays Valley "Taxpayers for Good, Basic Education Committee" was opened Friday by Chairman Bill Toney and the office girls, Mrs. Vaughn Herdman and Mrs. Bill Trego. The office is located above the Citizens Bank on Main Street in Ashville and is being donated by the bank.

Toney, high school principal, is excited about the present efforts of the committee to bring the facts regarding the school's overcrowding and how the district voters can do something about it at the polls Nov. 5.

Residents are urged to call the committee office (983-4104) for information or speakers to help them better understand the proposals that will be on the ballot.

Volunteers are being sought to hold coffee meetings and distribute information. If you can help or have a suggestion, please call. To date, there have been 1845 persons called all over the district on a voter registration survey.

The committee is trying to reach every resident of the district with information. If you are not contacted as the campaign progresses, request information at this headquarters.

Wiggins Promoted To Foreman

SAMUEL L. WIGGINS

Samuel L. Wiggins was recently promoted to the position of manufacturing foreman in the local DuPont plant's Mylar finishing area. Wiggins and his wife Marjorie live at Route 4. They are the parents of two children, Sammi Lynn and Stacey Luann.

A veteran of the United States Army, Wiggins served two years in Germany as a Spec. 4. He is a graduate of Laurelville High School and the son of Virginia E. Wiggins, Laurelville.

The new foreman came to the Du Pont Company April 2, 1962 as a manufacturing trainee and through a series of promotions later became a machine operator in the plant's finishing area.

Paper Shortage

There is something about paper that sets it apart from other commodities in the mind of the average person when he thinks about rising prices. Yet the cost of paper enters into everything people buy or do.

It wouldn't be difficult to come up with figures showing that paper prices advanced as greatly in the last five years as prices of gasoline or fuel oil. But paper enters more subtly into the cost of living.

Newsprint at $250 a ton in carload lots would have seemed fantastic two years ago. Some publishers say they can remember when it sold for $37.50 a ton.

Other grades of paper had advanced in proportion, whether used by schools, for correspondence or in grocery bags. Inflation has hit all grades and forms of paper hard.

Papermaking capacity is being increased, but not rapidly enough to create an oversupply. Manufacturers predict paper will be in tight supply for years.

Alas, Pour, Reggie

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Watching Reggie Jackson pour champagne all over the noble head of Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn was like seeing some infidel hit the Pope with a custard pie.

Can you imagine what would have happened to Babe Ruth if he had wetted down Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis with a schooner of suds after one of the Yankees' World Series victories? Probably would have been given 20 years in Sing Sing.

Verily, it is another day in baseball, another mood. The best team in the realm progresses to the championship while in a state of civil war. Its members largely resemble a flock of extras from an old silent movie about Barbary Coast pirates. They are dressed for a game against the Fats at the Elks outing. Their owner, Charlie Finley, is prouder of his arthritic mule than he is of his frisky manager, Alvin Dark. He took away Dark's sacred right to choose the team's lineup. At the summit of the victory celebration in the A's clubhouse, Finley said grumpily that he'd need a few days to decide whether to re-hire Dark for next season.

But Finley's A's play very well, with flair and confidence in every move. They are a young ballclub; could go on and on to break every Yankee record in the books.

Unless, of course, they decide instead to break one another's arms. Or Finley trades them for a 1975 model mule.

Speaking of champagne, Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, blames the bubbly for his recent troubles. He is now trying to explain to his Arkansas constituents how he happened to wind up, bloody and bowed, in a bizarre scene near the Tidal Basin in Washington, surrounded by a massage parlor queen, a stripper who dived into the water, and a couple of guys who didn't look much like residents of Little Rock.

"I drank some champagne and it went to my head," Wilbur is explaining.

Case dismissed.
Maybe.

The late Sam Rice, whose memory is preserved in the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., the pleasant little town where Abner Doubleday did not invent the game, was more than a classic hitter.

He set a little known record for alibiing one day near the end of his career. Washington was playing the Yankees. Sam, playing right field for the Senators, made a rare error. The easy-looking grounder went right through his legs and rolled on to the fence. A Yankee runner or two scored.

When the inning ended, Sam returned to his customary place in the Washington dugout. The silence was as thick as slumgullion stew. None of his peers berated him, perhaps in deference to his years with the team and his great record.

Surprisingly, it was Sam who broke the silence.

They'll Do It Every Time

WEATHERMAN (choking with laughter): "Thanks, Clarence, you do have a way of putting me on. Get it? I remember last night's quip of yours when you introduced me by saying, 'Now, the weather, from our meteorologist, J. Ramsbottom Wuggs.'"

ANCHORMAN (overcome with chuckles): "Thank you J. Ramsbottom Wuggs! You add a lot to our happy show."

When the meteorologist recovers from that rapier thrust, he smiles and chortles through a 60-second description of ruinous floods, earthquakes, monsoons and, of course, "patchy fog."

They're trying to say something to us, FCC. Find out what. Remember who pays your salaries!

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

There is talk going on that there will be shortage of natural gas because a handful of corporations that control its extraction and distribution decided some years ago not to drill for new wells. A gas shortage has been inevitable for years because this handful of corporations decided to use the weapon of creating a shortage until they can get their way on prices, pollution, and taxes.

When there is a shortage of gasoline and heating oils, it is not because there is a basic shortage of raw fuel available. There is a shortage because the top oil corporations some time ago, in a clear criminal conspiracy, decided not to build new oil refineries. They calculated how much they were refining, how fast the gas and oil was being used up, and they calculated then to create an energy crisis. There was a gasoline shortage last year but the corporations did not move to build new oil refineries. Instead they stored the raw fuel underground.

The root of the energy crisis is a shortage of refining capacity. As of this day no new refineries are under construction and the oil corporations have not lifted a finger to build new refineries. The existing refineries have been working at full capacity for some time. It is this that explains why, even if the Mid-East oil returns to its original flow, the energy crisis would not be over.

Because of the conspiracy, not to build refineries, the usual reserve of fuel oils and gasoline is depleted. That explains why the Mid-East cutoff has such an immediate effect.

Why this conspiracy? It is a clear cut policy of extortion. The monopolies are holding the gun. It is a hijacking of the greatest magnitude. The demand of the monopoly gangsters is: "Let us increase the price and pollute the air, or else!" How dare they blackmail the American people. Among other things, they want the government to build refineries and hand them over to the corporations. They want still more tax allowances, even though the federal government's oil depletion allowances are the biggest crimes of this century.

How is it possible for these few corporations to get away with this conspiracy? They are able to get away with it because (1) the energy establishment is in the grip of two or three corporations, and (2) because the state, too, is in the conspiracy with them.

The top ten corporations control 70 per cent of the fuel production. The same top ten corporations control most of the oil, gasoline and coal production. They have a grip on the energy jugular vein of the nation. There is no limit to what the corporations want. During the third quarter of 1973, the profits of the energy cultures went up as follows: Gulf Oil-91 per cent; Exxon-80 per cent, Mobil-65 per cent, and Occidental by 7,153 per cent. But in spite of this, they want more and more.

The nation cannot afford to have its life and death resources in the hands of irresponsible, cold-blooded gangsters without a social conscience. Public utilities must belong to the public.

There is a need for a totally new energy structure. There is a need for a democratically elected and controlled National Energy Council — a Council that will own and operate all energy related businesses from the oil, coal and gas fields to the refineries, to their distribution, including all power plants and nuclear plants.

Americanize now, the oil, gas and fuel — the whole energy sector of the economy.

Dear Editor:

Nine hundred eleven high school students and innumerable junior high kids funnel through the narrow halls of Teays Valley during the session overlap period every school day. Students clamor, push and shove to get to classrooms that are more crowded yet. How much longer will we have to tolerate this? How well can a student learn in classrooms of 40 or more?

This November, a school levy is once again on the ballot for the Teays Valley District. Voters are now, even less willing to pay higher taxes, especially if they have no children or relatives in the school system.

However, I do not consider so much whether the taxpayer can afford a few extra dollars in taxes but rather whether the school and students can afford the lower quality education necessitated by school overcrowding. Teachers have so many students that they can never begin to give each student the fundamental attention deserved. As a result, many students lose interest in school work and their grades plummet: potential doctors, teachers, scientists, writers vanish. And what becomes of the future?

As a high school senior who has tolerated this over-crowding and under-learning for the past four years and to a lesser degree in elementary school at Scioto and Ashville, I want to encourage all conscientious voters to vote for the school levy — for the future's sake.

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 23, the 296th day of 1974. There are 69 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1917, American troops saw their first action on the Western Front in World War I, in fighting near Luneville, France.

On this date —

In 1929, stock market prices began to plunge in heavy trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

In 1942, in World War II, the British launched a big offensive against Axis forces at El Alamein in Egypt.

In 1944, the Allies recognized a French provisional government headed by Charles de Gaulle.

Ten years ago: The new premier of the Soviet Union, Alexei Kosygin, received U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler and told him peaceful co-existence remained Moscow's policy toward the West.

Five years ago: U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge refused to speak at the Vietnam peace negotiations in Paris, charging the Communists with using abusive language against the United States.

One year ago: The Israeli military command announced that Israel and Egypt had agreed to a new cease-fire agreement in the Middle East war.

Unemployment Tax Cut Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Employment services says unemployment compensation taxes on Ohio employers will be reduced Jan. 1.

William E. Gurnes said the tax will drop two-tenths per cent. The lower tax rate results from the formula in state law, which bases the tax on the amount of money in the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund. Gurnes said there is more than $783 million in the trust fund.

"That's the trouble with a desk job. The pants wear out before the coat."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My father is heading for a broken hip. He is careless, he hurries and pays no attention to safety. He is 77 years old.

I recall a column you once wrote on this subject. Perhaps rereading it would impress him with the need for greater caution.

Mrs. G.B., Ind.

Dear Mrs. B.:

Dr. Carter Rowe, of the Harvard Medical School, wrote a pledge which, he insisted, should be signed by every elderly adult.

The pledge was based on the fact that fractured hips and fractured bones cause the elderly long and protracted months of pain and inactivity.

In most cases, carelessness is the basis for the injury. As one grows older, bones become more brittle and more fragile, and are more easily broken by simple accidents and falls.

The pledge: "I hereby promise my children and grandchildren to stop hurrying.

"I will not rush to the door or the telephone.

Liners Are Gone

By JIM BISHOP

The era of the great ocean liner expired last month when the "France," a fifth of a mile long, was retired from service. The "QE II" and a few others are still out there, but they attract mainly young honeymooners, who stand at a rail watching the bright bands of a sunrise, and elderly couples who recline in deck chairs, waiting for golden sunsets.

The swift silver birds have killed the ocean liners. The survivors ply the Caribbean out of Port Everglades and Miami. I write this obituary with a heavy heart, because I have been a sailor all my life.

At the age of 12, my mother indulged me to take a ferry to New York. My uncle, Jack Regan, was a cabinet-maker on the Cunard Line piers and he got me aboard the "Berengaria," the "Aquitania," the "Mauretania," the "Carmania" and dozens of other palatial liners.

Each ship had a personality. It was more than a huge hull with intricate wood panelling and sumptuous public rooms. It was a living thing. Some could accept the high seas and North Atlantic gales with equanimity and arrive on time.

Others, like the "Berengaria," flinched in high seas. The old "Olympic" of the White Star Line was the sister of the "Titanic." Coming up over the horizon at Ambrose Light, she had more majesty and less courage than any ship I knew.

The best, of course, was the "Mauretania," the old "Mauretania." The designers, I suspect, wanted a gigantic yacht with four funnels. They had her and her sister, the "Lusitania," ready for sea trials in the Irish Sea in 1907.

The "Lusitania" was sunk by a U-boat off Old Kinsale Head in 1915. Her forward holds were loaded with British ammunition, undeclared on the manifest when she left New York. When the torpedo hit, the U-boat captain, staring through his periscope, couldn't believe the size of the explosion. The whole side of the starboard forepeak blew out; the ship sank in 18 minutes, and 1,200 passengers drowned in sight of land.

The "Mauretania" grew old in service, but she became more beautiful with age. She flew the Blue Riband as the fastest liner in the North Atlantic from 1907 until 1929. Head up to the swells, she could maintain 27 knots day and night.

Her captain, Commodore Rostron, a small Scot, used to follow me around her in port, asking why I never tired of touching her rails, her Steinway piano, or the lofty view of West Street from her bridge.

Add to this pledge the good sense of using a skidless cane, especially in bad weather.

Then attach this pledge to a mirror or a wall so that it can be read often.

Most fractures of the hip occur within the questionable safety of the home. You can help your father by being sure that there is excellent lighting in the home. A night light in the bathroom will avoid many fractured hips.

Scatter rugs are a source of potential danger unless they are anchored to the floor.

Highly waxed kitchen and bathroom floors are attractive but hazardous. Stairwells are dangerous. An added rail along the wall is an excellent investment in safety.

The toys of grandchildren, haphazardly scattered about the room, are a threat to the safety of visiting grandparents.

Anticipation is the key to the prevention of accidents.

It was love, but I didn't know how to say it. She didn't love me; she didn't know me; I never sailed her. I was just a fresh kid dreaming. Once, when she picked a pilot up at Ambrose, he called for, "Slow all engines." He should have called, "Dead Slow—harbor speed."

Instead of four knots, she was easing along at eight. It was summer. Her size and grace magnetized bathers at Coney Island. Her wake turned a six-foot wave from her razor bows. It drowned 12 swimmers.

When I became older, I visited more ships. Nothing was as romantic as the midnight sailing of the North German Lloyd liner "Europa." Her deep "cast off" blast mingled with the German leader songs of the ship's band. Out in the river, she was an elegant city of lights.

The "Conti Di Savoia" of the Italian Line was the first to use stabilizers in rough seas. Later, I sailed on ships such as the "Constitution," the "Independence," "Ivernia," the "Julio Cesare," "Angelina Lauro," "Santa Paula," "Santa Rosa," etc. I admired each one for herself.

A ship is aging at 20, old at 30. In 1936, the Cunard Line had painted the "Mauretania" white and ran her on winter cruises to the south. She was 29 years old, loafing at two-thirds speed through clear green waters, listening to the shouts of the drunks, the whippers of high-speed shipboard romances, the babbling crush to debark at every port.

It was demeaning work for a lady. So Cunard sent her to the shipbreakers. As she left New York, a man in Washington, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, sat at his desk and wrote a paean of poetic praise to a dying queen.

At dockside in Great Britain, the big funeral cranes bent in prayer over her rakish funnels. Thousands of protests arrived. Old seafarers wanted a final opportunity to buy a life ring, a spoke from the helmsman's wheel, a dining room chair.

Cunard was surprised at such sentimentality. I wasn't...

City Board To Discuss Meet Change

Among the topics to be presented by the superintendent at Thursday's meeting of the Circleville Board of Education is the resignation of a staff member due to pregnancy and the changing of the November and December board meetings.

Three staff members have also applied for approval to attend professional meetings and one teacher has asked to be added to the list of approved substitutes.

Under finances, Superintendent Fritz Jacobs will present his recommendations for investments. On the agenda are also items calling for additional blacktopping at the South Court Elementary Building, renewal of Blanket Bond for the employees, approval of a trucking service agreement and approval of membership in the county media center.

The board is also reminded of the open house at the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational Center on Nov. 17.

A final item to be presented at the regular monthly meeting is the policy revision concerning student record forms.

Food Jumps In Price Across Ohio

CHICAGO (AP) — Food prices jumped 2 per cent in Cleveland during September and 1.3 per cent in Cincinnati, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics has reported.

The bureau said the food price index hit 165.9 in Cleveland and 167.2 in Cincinnati. That means that $100 worth of food bought in 1967, the base period, now would cost $165.90 in Cleveland and $167.20 in Cincinnati.

Increases for the year were 11.3 per cent in Cincinnati and 10.5 per cent in Cleveland.

The bureau said dairy products were the only foods showing a price decline during the month, dropping 0.2 per cent in Cincinnati and 0.7 per cent in Cleveland. But even with the drops, the bureau said, dairy product prices in Cincinnati were 19.2 per cent above a year ago and were 16.6 per cent above the price last year in Cleveland.

Meat, poultry and fish prices showed an increase from a month ago, but a drop from a year ago, the bureau said.

Cleveland showed a 3.4 per cent increase last month, but a 11.8 per cent drop from last year, while Cincinnati showed a 2.1 per cent increase during the month but a 8.5 per cent drop from prices a year ago.

Cincinnati and Cleveland were the only two Ohio cities for which figures were available.

BALLOT LANGUAGE, EXPLANATIONS, AND RESOLUTIONS FOR PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE OHIO CONSTITUTION TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE VOTERS AT THE GENERAL ELECTION, NOVEMBER 5, 1974

1 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
Article XII, Section 2 TO PERMIT LAWS REDUCING REAL ESTATE TAXES ON THE HOMESTEADS OF PERMANENTLY AND TOTALLY DISABLED RESIDENTS. If adopted, the amendment shall take effect January 1, 1975. (Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly) A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.
YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 1
The Ohio Constitution presently provides that land and improvements thereon must be taxed by uniform rule according to value. The only current exception to this requirement is the 1970 amendment which permits the General Assembly to provide in the tax laws for a reduced tax for residents 65 years of age and older by providing for a reduction in the value of the homestead of such persons.
Issue No. 1, if passed, would create a second exception to the uniform tax rule by permitting the General Assembly to reduce the homestead value in the case of PERMANENTLY AND TOTALLY DISABLED PERSONS, thereby reducing their taxes.

2 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
TO REPEAL SECTION 12 OF ARTICLE VIII OF THE OHIO CONSTITUTION WHICH REQUIRES THE GOVERNOR TO APPOINT A SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC WORKS FOR A ONE-YEAR TERM. (Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly) A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.
YES	SHALL THE SECTION BE REPEALED?

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 2
Article VIII, section 12 of the Ohio Constitution requires the Governor to appoint a superintendent of public works for a one year term.
Due to an enactment of the 110th General Assembly creating the Department of Administrative Services, the duties of the Department of Public Works were included, as were those of the Departments of Finance and State Personnel, in this new department. As a result, there is no longer a Department of Public Works, as its duties and functions are now lodged with the Director of Administrative Services, who, under the provisions of law, is appointed by the Governor to serve at his pleasure with the advice and consent of the Senate.

FULL TEXT OF THE RESOLUTIONS PROPOSING EACH AMENDMENT

ISSUE 1

JOINT RESOLUTION
Proposing to amend section 2 of Article XII of the Constitution of the state of Ohio to provide that laws may be passed reducing taxes by providing for a reduction in value of the homestead for totally disabled residents.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1974, a proposal to amend the Constitution of the State of Ohio by amending section 13 of Article VIII thereof to read as follows:

ARTICLE VIII
Section 13. To create or preserve jobs and employment opportunities, to improve the economic welfare of the people of the state, to control air, water, and thermal pollution, or to dispose of solid waste, it is hereby determined to be in the public interest and a proper public purpose for the state or its political subdivisions, taxing districts, or public authorities, its or their agencies or instrumentalities, or corporations not for profit designated by any of them as such agencies or instrumentalities, to acquire, construct, enlarge, improve, or equip, and to sell, lease, exchange, or otherwise dispose of property, structures, equipment, and facilities within the State of Ohio for industry, commerce, distribution, and research, to make or guarantee loans and to borrow money and issue bonds or other obligations to provide moneys for the acquisition, construction, enlargement, improvement, or equipment of such property, structures, equipment, and facilities. Laws may be passed to carry into effect such purposes and to provide for such purposes the borrowing of money by, and the issuance of bonds or other obligations of the state, or its political subdivisions, taxing districts, or public authorities, its or their agencies or instrumentalities, or corporations not for profit designated by any of them as such agencies or instrumentalities, and to authorize the making of guarantees and loans and the lending of aid and credit, which laws, bonds, obligations, loans, guarantees, and lending of aid and credit shall not be subject to the requirements, limitations, or prohibitions of any other section of Article VIII, or of Article XII, Sections 6 and 11, of the Constitution, provided that moneys raised by taxation shall not be obligated or pledged for the payment of bonds or other obligations issued or guaranteed made pursuant to laws enacted under this section.

Except for facilities for pollution control or solid waste disposal, as determined by law, no guarantees or loans and no lending of aid or credit shall be made under the laws enacted pursuant to this section. The powers herein granted shall be in addition to and not in derogation of existing powers of the state or its political subdivisions, taxing districts, or public authorities, its or their agencies or instrumentalities, or corporations not for profit designated by any of them as such agencies or instrumentalities.

Any corporation organized under the laws of Ohio is hereby authorized to lend or contribute moneys to the state or its political subdivisions or agencies or instrumentalities thereof on such terms as may be agreed upon in furtherance of laws enacted pursuant to this section.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL
If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect, and existing section 13 of Article VIII shall be repealed from such effective date.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE
I, TED W. BROWN, Secretary of State, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of House Joint Resolution No. 59, Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 26 and Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 22, proposing to amend the Constitution of Ohio, together with the ballot language and explanation for each certified to me by the Ohio Ballot Board.

TESTIMONY WHEREOF I have hereunto subscribed my name and affixed my official seal at Columbus this 1st day of September, 1974.

TED W. BROWN
Secretary of State
(Seal) Oct. 9, 1974

3 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
Article VIII, Section 13 TO INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING AMONG THE PURPOSES FOR WHICH PUBLIC UTILITIES DEVELOPMENT REVENUE BONDS MAY BE ISSUED AND LOAN GUARANTEE PROGRAMS ESTABLISHED: THE OBLIGATING OR PLEDGING MONEYS RAISED BY TAXATION:
1. THE PRESERVATION OF EXISTING JOBS, 2. THE CONTROL OF AIR, WATER AND THERMAL POLLUTION, 3. THE DISPOSAL OF SOLID WASTE, AND 4. THE CONSTRUCTION OF ELECTRIC AND GAS UTILITY SERVICE FACILITIES FOR POLLUTION CONTROL OR SOLID WASTE DISPOSAL. (Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly) A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 3
Article VIII, section 13 of the Ohio Constitution currently permits public utility development revenue bonds and loan guarantee financing of facilities for industry, commerce, distribution and research, to create jobs and employment opportunities and improve the economic welfare of the people of the state. Such financing is done through issuance of revenue bonds or guarantees of loans, with moneys for repayment coming from the operation of the facilities. Moneys raised by taxation may not be obligated or pledged for payment of the bonds or guarantees. That restriction would be retained in this amendment.

The present section forbids facilities to be constructed through such financing "to the extent that such facilities are constructed for pollution control or solid waste disposal and to remove obsolete language."
The amendment would make an exception to this for pollution control and solid waste disposal facilities, so that they would be financed through utility rates, which will provide the moneys to pay for the financing without in any way obligating or pledging any moneys raised by taxation.

The amendment would add the preservation of existing jobs to the creation of jobs as a proper purpose of such financing, and would also add the control of air, water, and thermal pollution and the disposal of solid waste as separate objectives for such bonds or loan guarantees.

The amendment would add the preservation of existing jobs to the creation of jobs as a proper purpose of such financing, and would also add the control of air, water, and thermal pollution and the disposal of solid waste as separate objectives for such bonds or loan guarantees.

Pickaway Plains DAR October Program Theme Is 'American Heritage'

Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of The American Revolution met for its October meeting at First English Lutheran Church, in Ashville.

The regent, Mrs. Henry Bartholomew opened the meeting in ritualistic form, assisted by the chaplain, Mrs. Emerson Spicer. Mrs. Christian Schwartz, chairman of the Flag of the United States of America, led the salute. One verse of "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung accompanied by the pianist, Mrs. Martin Cromley.

Mrs. Charles Beckman read the letter from the President general Mrs. Henry S. Jones, who reminded members of the National Society celebration of its 84th birthday this month. The bylaws, "To cherish, maintain and extend the institutions of American freedom" is a continuing responsibility and goal. America is to face the future bravely and with confidence; now is the time to breathe new life into the moral and spiritual and constitutional values which made this country great and on which our freedoms are based.

Mrs. Austin Dowden, the national defense chairman used excerpts from a document prepared by Ohio Representative John M. Ashbrook, titled "Soviet Military Might: Western Made" which was printed in the May 1973 issue of The D.A.R. Magazine.

Mrs. Robert Bales, chairman of the heritage committee, introduced Mrs. Carl Steinhauer, who presented a very interesting paper on "Currier And Ives".

She said historians have always taken history too seriously. With the distasteful faithfulness of unimaginative bookkeepers they have set down names, dates, and places. They have seen life as a parade of wooden soldiers.

Mr. Corrier and Mr. Ives, were, without even suspecting it, America's preeminent romanticists. They left us a pictorial record of their times inestimably more valuable as Americana than all the archives that have been gathering dust since 1492.

In the early 19th century when pictures in books and magazines were reproduced by a relatively slow process, from cooperplate, engravings, and woodcuts or some other similar method, engineers and publishers in Europe and America were beginning to experiment with a new method called lithography.

The first American firm to make a commercial success of lithography was William S. and John Pendleton of Boston. Establishing their business in 1824 the Pendletons brought from France a man named Dubois who was the first true lithographic pressman in America. The business grew to a point where it was necessary to hire an apprentice. The job was given to a 15 year old boy named Nathaniel Currier.

This Nathaniel Currier had an early start in an infant business and he was quick to master its intricacies and to realize its potentialities.

After five years Mr. Currier went to New York and established his own business. His shop was a favorite resort of many prominent men, among them were Henry Ward Beecher, Horace Greeley and B. T. Barnum. Currier had a summer home in Amesbury, Mass. and there he was often visited by John Greenleaf Whittier. He liked horses and kept a number of them. The well-known print "The Road - Summer" was a portrait of his brother driving one of his horses.

In that first year of his business independence New York was swept by a fire. It was unfortunate for New York, for 13 acres of the city's finest property went the way of all smoke. But it was fortunate for Mr. Currier.

Four days later, while the embers were still cooling, Mr. Currier offered for sale a lithograph called "Ruins Of The Merchants Exchange - New York" Any metropolitan newspaper could do the same in an hour today. A hundred years ago it was very different. The dazzling speed of Mr. Currier's presses was something of a sensation. Thousands of prints were sold and Mr. Currier's local reputation had been established.

For several years he went on making prints of whatever he thought would interest New Yorkers. And then on a bitter January night in 1840 the steamship Lexington caught fire in Long Island Sound. More than 100 lives were lost. Three days later Mr. Currier was ready with a picture of the burning ship, together with 7 columns of detailed description of the disaster. This time there was such a demand that he had to keep his presses running night and day. This interest of course was not purely local. Other cities sent for copies and Mr. Currier himself wrapped and tied the bundles and sent them away. And when those busy days came to an end, Mr. Currier had a national reputation.

For many years Nathaniel Currier had his brother Charles as a business associate. In an advertisement in the New York's city directory of 1862 he describes himself as Charles Currier, lithographer. Portraits, views, cities, town buildings, music titles executed in the first style of the art, also manufacturers of lithographic crayons superior to any other.

Besides his invention of the superior lithographic crayons, Charles made another invaluable contribution to his brother's firm. His wife's sister had married a young bookkeeper, art lover and lithographer whom Charles had recommended to Nathaniel for a position. In 1852 the young man was hired as a bookkeeper. He fitted so well into the rapidly expanding firm that five years later, he was made a partner. His name was James Merritt Ives.

He learned lithography and after entering Curriers' employ occasionally worked on a stone himself. His work on the 4th plate of the delightful series "The Four Seasons Of Life" reveals his skilled draftsmanship.

They never lost sight of the news angle of their publications however. The great fires in Boston, New York, Chicago, the burning of ships, horse races or any other event which the public became interested in became subjects for the lithographer's crayon. In one notable case the firm anticipated the news. A print showing the first Continental Train "Across The Continent" was published in 1868. The last spike was not driven until 1869.

In any analysis of the popularity of Currier and Ives prints when they were published, color stands out as an important factor. There was such little color in the furnishings of the average home. Even the titles of the prints contributed to their popularity. Among their favorite key words were the great, celebrated, grand. The word American was the leading word in well over 100 titles. Another magic word was home when the two were combined as in the "American Homestead" series. It had irresistible appeal which accounts for the large number sold. The sub titles on the "Four Seasons Of Life" are particularly felicitous.

There was a great demand for some of the prints and occasionally the stones became chipped. If that stone was not replaced, such a print is a scarce item today. This could be the reason behind the fact that there are but a few known copies of that colorful and dramatic print "The Life Of A Hunter - A Tight Fix." Scarcity is the factor that accounts for its valuation of between 2 or 4 thousand dollars.

A favorite of Currier and Ives artist for many collectors is George Durrie. Currier and Ives reproduced comparatively few of his paintings, only a dozen or so in all, but his work had such truly American character that the few prints which were produced are among the most valued of the entire gallery. His paintings as a group form one of the best records of the old days on the farm, a way of life that is fast vanishing. Among the prints "The Old Homestead In Winter," "Winter In The Country" and others all have the same rural beauty and homeliness. Durrie's "Home To Thanksgiving" which is a handsome piece of work, typically American, is perhaps the most widely known Currier and Ives print in this country today. It is regretted that his original painting for the print has never been found.

Following the history of Currier and Ives, Mrs. James Price and Miss Wilmine Haecker, acting as pages, brought each picture of the exhibit to the front of the room, while the owner sometimes offered a comment.

Exhibitors and pictures were: "Grandpa's Ride," made in 1850, Mrs. Walter Kindler; "The Banquet Of Roses," Mrs. John Noecker; "Happy Age," "Sunday In Olden Times," "Kittens And The Roses" and "The Little White Kitten," Mrs. Charles Pugsley; "American Homestead Spring," "American Homestead Autumn" and "Landscape Fruit And Flowers," Mrs. Carl Steinhauer; "The Fruit Vase" dated 1857, "The Young Housekeepers," dated 1847 and "Nancy," Mrs. Robert Bales.

City Health Department Advises Furnace Checkup

If you are turning your heating unit on for the first time this winter, hold it!

A colorless, odorless, tasteless poison already responsible for several deaths this year, may be lurking in your heating equipment.

This life-threatening poison is carbon monoxide, a gas produced by the incomplete burning of any solid, liquid, or gaseous fuel.

"Any furnace, stove, or heating unit is capable of producing deadly carbon monoxide gas at any moment, if complete fuel burning is not taking place," Bob Kramer of Circleville City Health Dept. recently stated. "Everyone in our community must become more aware of the dangers and causes of carbon monoxide poisoning."

Each year this poison takes the lives of more than 100 Ohioans at home, while camping or in the automobile.

Canned Tuna Has Extra Ingredients

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP) — Rat hairs and fly maggots are among the extra ingredients Consumers Union says it found when it took a close look at some canned tuna.

An article in the November issue of its magazine, Consumer Reports, said that after testing 104 samples of 52 brands, the problem "appeared industrywide."

Of the 16 distributors whose brands were tested, 13 had at least one contaminated sample, according to the nonprofit agency.

The magazine said one tuna sample contained part of a fly maggot. In two other cases, examiners found rat hairs three-fifths of an inch long. It said that was too long to have come from ground spices.

"The FDA's usual excuse for its lax standards on filth in food is that the filth originated in nature and couldn't be readily removed," the article said. "Well rats don't live in or around tuna fish in the ocean. A likely explanation for their presence is direct contact between fish and rat."

Noting that tuna is an excellent and economical protein source, the magazine added:

"Although the filth we found is more likely to ruin your appetite than your health, we think the tuna industry badly needs a cleanup."

Demos Hope For Big Turnout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If they get big turnouts in traditionally strong Democratic areas, party strategists believe 1974 will be a big year for Democrats in Ohio.

"Our whole thing is to identify our strength and deliver that strength on election day," said Eugene "Pete" O'Grady, campaign manager for Gov. John J. Gilligan.

The major Democratic strongholds are not difficult to identify. They are the highly-unionized, northern industrial areas — Toledo in the northwest and most of the northeastern corner of the state.

The Democratic strategy is simple — bring out the voters in droves in these districts and work hard to win votes in what they consider to be safe independent areas.

But, getting out the vote may prove a formidable task in a year marked by widespread voter disillusionment and apathy. Some political analysts think the Watergate scandal will hurt both parties, with large numbers of voters staying home Nov. 5.

Even with a national hero as an overwhelming favorite in the U.S. Senate race and with an incumbent governor, Democratic insiders are hesitant to predict any landslide.

Not so O'Grady, a former Democratic state chairman. Sitting in his cluttered campaign office in downtown Columbus, O'Grady said flatly: "I'll predict that the Democratic ticket will be elected from top to bottom."

That will take some doing, most observers figure.

Even assuming victories for all Democratic incumbents, state Rep. Richard Celeste has a tough fight with incumbent Lt. Gov. John W. Brown and state Sen. Tony P. Hall appears to be a decided underdog against Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

O'Grady is encouraged by an independent poll. During the last week of September it showed John Glenn leading Republican Ralph Perk by an astronomical 50 points in the Senate race and Gilligan ahead of former Gov. James A. Rhodes by 11 points. The poll had 16 per cent of the vote undecided in the gubernatorial contest.

A Republican poll reportedly showed Rhodes to be only a few points behind.

O'Grady thinks Gilligan will do better in his home town of Cincinnati after losing Hamilton County in 1970 and claims there is a "surprising interest in Democrats this year in traditionally-Republican small counties. "Within the last three weeks, everything has come together," O'Grady said in mid-October.

Gilligan's 53 per cent plus victory in 1970 over former state Auditor Roger Cloud pinpointed the Democratic strongholds. Gilligan captured only 34 counties to Cloud's 54, but he piled up big margins in densely populated areas like Lucas, Cuyahoga, Summit and Mahoning counties, reflecting an edge for Democrats in registered voters in the state.

Gilligan defeated Cloud in all of the counties in the northeastern corner and did well along Ohio's eastern border in Columbiana and Jefferson and on southward to Belmont and Monroe counties.

Then, there is little Pike County surrounded by generally GOP areas in south-central Ohio. Pike gave Gilligan a 1,163-vote margin out of fewer than 1,700 votes cast in 1970. Party officials point out the county has been voting Democratic since Civil War days.

Democratic strength in the state was badly shaken by Sen. George McGovern's ill-fated 1972 presidential campaign.

Only Lucas and Athens counties gave McGovern the edge, the latter due largely to the student vote at Ohio University. Even Youngstown, rock-ribbed Democratic country, went for former President Nixon by 1,700 votes.

Democratic campaign officials do not appear worried that Gilligan will lose any traditionally-safe areas this year. The governor's people have not had the problems that McGovern's staff had in working with local party officials.

Nor are internal problems on the local level expected to harm the statewide ticket. Although Democratic factionalism has contributed to two election victories for GOP Mayor Ralph J. Perk in Cleveland, Gilligan won Cuyahoga County by 67 per cent four years ago.

"We expect him to repeat that margin of victory," said one state party official.

There is no apparent complacency in the Democratic camp, due in part to fears over a low turnout and published reports that Rhodes is gaining ground.

"It all depends on the turnout," a party spokesman said.

World's Largest Quarter Horse Show Under Way

The world's largest horse show, the All-American Quarter Horse Congress, is underway in Columbus at the Ohio State Exposition Center.

Dr. Paul Teegardin, Dunkle Road, is a director of the Ohio Quarter Horse Assn. Showing at the event will be Steve Fullen of near Atlanta, with I'm A Lou Lou, the unofficial high point horse in the yearling filly halter class and the unofficial reserve champion in all ages. With the Ohio Show circuit over, I'm A Lou Lou has accumulated enough points to win, but standings do not become official until later in the year.

Fullen will be showing I'm A Lou Lou Sunday at Columbus in the yearling halter class and Saturday in the get of sire class along with Hillcreek's Hi Skip, the unofficial reserve yearling stallion in Ohio. Fullen owns and trains I'm A Lou Lou while Hill creek's Hi Skip is owned by Dr. Richard Beckman of Mt. Sterling.

An expected 5,500 entrants in the show will be showing some 3,500 horses to an estimated 22,000 people at the show. It goes on from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. through Oct. 29.

The Quarter Horse has become the largest breed of horses in the world. This versatile animal will perform in anything from cattle cutting to bridle path hack, to racing, barrel racing and hunter over fences.

There will be entries from every

Alleged Kidnapers Files Bid

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A Winter Park, Fla., man accused of kidnaping says his civil rights are being violated and has asked a court to rescind an order forcing him to turn over evidence.

A new attorney for Clifford J. Kroger, 38, a civil engineer, filed the motion in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court asking Judge William S. Morrissey to rescind an order that would make Kroger provide blood, hair and handwriting samples to the prosecution.

Kroger waived extradition in Florida and was returned here to face charges in the Sept. 23 kidnaping of 4-year-old Allison Mechem, daughter of broadcast executive Charles Mechem.

The little girl was found unharmed in a motel, and the $128,000 ransom was recovered untouched by the kidnapers, police said.

Kroger's attorney, Bernard Gilday, Tuesday contended that Morrissey's order violated Kroger's rights. The order is tantamount to compelling the defendant to be a witness against himself, Gilday said.

Morrissey said Oct. 10 when he issued the order that the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that blood can be taken from a suspect, forcibly if necessary.

Kroger remains in jail in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Expense Reports Changed By Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Congressional candidates no longer must file campaign expense reports under state law, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Tuesday.

President Ford signed the Federal Election Campaign Act Amendments of 1974 which provides that "all state and local law relating to . . . registration, reporting and disclosure requirements for federal elections are pre-empted and superseded by federal law immediately upon enactment of this legislation," Brown said.

Congressional candidates must still file the federal reports with the secretary of state.

Coal Stockpiling Urged By Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Energy Advisory Council has advised the state government to stockpile coal before a possible miners' strike Nov. 12.

It also recommended Tuesday to its parent Ohio Energy Commission that the state suggest the same thing to hospitals and other facilities considered in the emergency category.

The 18-member council didn't put it in writing, but it also discussed two ways the state could speed up pre-strike deliveries of coal.

They were:

—Lift regulations that restrict coal trucks to handle no more than 78,000 pounds each load when they are capable of carrying 120,000 pounds.

—Lift the time-consuming bidding requirement on state purchases of coal.

Donald Colosimo, chief contingency planner for the five-member commission, said another problem to be faced in an emergency is how to take coal from one firm and give it to another.

"During a strike, all we can do is take from somebody who is a little more effective on stockpiling and give it to someone who is less effective," Colosimo said.

Members of the council agreed, but didn't put it in the resolution, that the best approach in those cases would be to require the borrower to pay back the coal to the lender, regardless of any change in price.

Colosimo said the state is now paying $60 a ton for coal it bought a year ago for $18. There is also a shortage of coal cars and trucks required to get the coal from the mines, he said.

A coal operator on the council, Richard Rouse of Consolidation Coal Co., said his firm was selling coal at the mine for $23 but the customer had to pay for hauling it away. Most of the supply, he said, is earmarked for regular clients.

The council set its next meeting for Nov. 19.

HIGH POINTS—Steve Fullen of near Atlanta poses I'm A Lou Lou, the unofficial high point yearling filly of Ohio. He will show her at the All-American Quarter Horse Congress at Columbus.

Lima Boy Succumbs To Sniffing Of Spray

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—The Allen County Sheriff's Department reported a 15-year-old Lima boy died after apparently sniffing a spray shortening Tuesday.

Allan Whitehurst died about 6 p.m. at Lima Memorial Hospital. Three friends of the Whitehurst youth were treated at the hospital.

Authorities said an autopsy was planned today.

Court Says Let 'Em Dance

KATWIJK, The Netherlands (AP)—The city council of the seaside resort of Katwijk is being forced by court order to grant a permit allowing a dance hall to operate on Sunday.

The council had refused the permit, claiming Sunday dancing would not be acceptable to the majority of the town's population.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

"T" Stands For Trouble

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married next month and was very happy about it until last night, when Ted and I had a long talk.

He told me not to expect him to stay faithful to me all our married life because all married men go out on their wives sooner or later and he doesn't think he is going to be any different.

Abby, I love Ted very much, and I don't think I could stand it if I knew he cheated on me.

What should I do?

IN LOVE

DEAR IN: Tell Ted that in this age of the liberated woman, all married women go out on their husbands sooner or later; and since you feel a part of the new sisterhood, the arrangement he proposes is at least negotiable. (In any event, the "T" in Ted stands for trouble.)

DEAR ABBY: I was told that years ago, if a man didn't want to be drafted in the U.S. Army, he could PAY someone to substitute for him. I know it sounds like a dumb question, but I can't find the answer anywhere. Can you help me?

INQUISITIVE

DEAR INK: It is not a "dumb" question. And it WAS true, but no longer is.

By the terms of the Conscription Act of 1863, a man eligible for the draft could avoid service by providing a substitute, or paying a commutation of $300.

One-time President Grover Cleveland paid a substitute $150 to serve for him in the Civil War. (Cleveland had two brothers in the U.S. Army and a mother and two sisters to support at the time.)

DEAR ABBY: My father-in-law died six months ago and since his death, my mother-in-law has practically lived with us.

She comes over every night for supper and sits all evening. It's not that she stays so long, but I work, and frankly, I would like to be able to come home and just relax.

She has always been very critical of anyone who doesn't keep a spotless house, and although I'm a fairly good housekeeper, I feel she will criticize me. It's gotten to the point where I hate to go home after work because I know she will be there. She's a nice person, and I get along with her, but I need time to be alone.

She spends every weekend here, and I can't accomplish anything because she is always looking over my shoulder.

She's well enough to go everywhere we go. She went on our vacation with us, and if she wants to go next year, I'd just as soon stay home.

I hate to be a stinker, and I wouldn't want to shut her out completely, but this is too much.

My husband is unfortunately her only "child" and she doesn't get along with the other relatives. Help!

SUFFOCATING IN VA

DEAR SUFF: Your problem is not your mother-in-law, it's the lack of communication with your husband. Your objections seem reasonable enough to me.

Have a heart-to-heart talk with hubby, and let him know how you feel.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A. Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Grid Picker Sees OSU Over Northwestern

NEW YORK (AP) — "We expect another team to try and beat us, but we're not going to let it happen."

So says Ohio State's Woody Hayes as the 6-0 Buckeyes get ready to defend their No. 1 ranking against 1-5 Northwestern.

"Only way to avoid it is preparation," adds Hayes. "We'll be ready. We do want to keep all four backs running."

The four main backs are tailback Archie Griffin, who's averaging 6.9 yards a carry, quarterback Cornelius

Greene at 6.3, fullback Champ Henson at 5.0 and wingback Brian Baschnagel at an astonishing 13.1. Those averages have remained pretty much the same for the last few weeks and Hayes, believe it or not, isn't happy about it.

"We've had offensive consistency around 73 per cent for three straight weeks," he said. "The reason we're not getting better is using other players so much."

The number will stay around the 73 per cent level again as the Buckeyes use a lot of players in beating Northwestern ... 56-7.

Last week's score was 45 right, 17 wrong and two ties for .726, bringing the season's scoreboard to 279-108-12-.721. All three Upset Specials went down the drain, however, although West Virginia came within seconds of beating Miami, Fla., before losing by a point.

Oklahoma 56, Kansas State 7: If that's a good score for Ohio State, why not for Oklahoma?

Michigan 35, Minnesota 14: For the Little Brown Jug Minnesota gets juggled and mugged.

Alabama 42, Texas Christian 7: TCU won't stop 'Bama, even though the Horned Frogs have won all three previous meetings with the Tide.

Auburn 20, Florida State 7: Auburn has never lost to FSU and there's no reason to start now.

Southern California 34, Oregon State 7: USC's passing game might not be as good as it should be, but the ground game, led by Anthony Davis, is no problem.

Notre Dame 14, Miami, Fla. 7: Hurricanes come on strong to avenge last year's 44-0 shellacking, but not strong enough.

Upset Special of the Week ... Baylor 21, Texas A&M 20. You know the times are changin' when the winner of this one is still unbeaten in Southwest Conference play.

Second Upset Special ... Georgia Tech 24, Tulane 21: Yellow Jackets are unbeaten at home since the Notre Dame opener.

Third Upset Special ... Princeton 24, Penn 21: A prize to anyone who can spell Snickenberger and Bellizeare.

Pigeon Club Holds 2-Year-Old Races

The Circleville Pigeon Club held its final two-year-old races of the season Oct. 19, with Bill Wood winning the 200 mile race from Corbin, Ky. with a speed of 1,174.7968 yards per minute.

After Wood took second place, Stan Crosby grabbed all the places through 8th to win the loft and bird derbies.

Crosby took first and second places in the 300 mile race, his fastest time at 1120 yards per minute. He also won the loft and bird derbies.

Home Kuntz took 3rd, 5th, and 7th places.

Boosters Meet

The Circleville Athletic Booster Club will meet tonight in the high school cafeteria. All interested Boosters are welcome.

Bonus Upset Special ... Indiana 20, Wisconsin 15. Indiana lost by 40 to Ohio State, Wisconsin lost by 45, which means the Hoosiers are five points better. Doesn't it?

Nebraska 28, Oklahoma State 17: Cornhuskers were fit to be tied last year; this time, they're Humming ... with Dave Humm.

Penn State 31, West Virginia 14: Lions always wins this one ... or does it just seem that way?

Texas Tech 24, Southern Methodist 17: Red Raiders can't afford another SWC setback.

Florida 27, Duke 14: Unless the Gators decide to look ahead to Auburn.

Texas 35, Rice 7: Officials won't lose this one for the Owls.

Arizona State 41, New Mexico 14:

Last year it was 67-24.

Maryland 24, North Carolina State 22: This game and next week's meeting with Penn State will prove how good the Terps really are.

Arizona 35, Brigham Young 28: Wildcats are back in their league — the Western Athletic Conference — after losing their unbeaten record to Texas Tech of the Southwest Conference.

Miami of Ohio 35, Toledo 17: Redskins have allowed only 30 points all season.

Georgia 24, Kentucky 21: But it could go the other way ... and isn't that a great line?

Temple 28, Delaware 14: Good University Division team beats good College Division team ... which should really be in the University Division.

County Football Teams Hope To Improve League Records

Pickaway County's three area football teams will be looking forward to grid games Friday, when they have chances to improve their season and league records.

Teays Valley will be looking for Metro League win number three against 1-5 Grandview; Westfall will be attempting to stay in second place in the Scioto Valley Conference against Piketon; and Logan Elm will be looking for its second win against Liberty Union.

"We finally played like we're capable," said TV Coach Dick Kidwell talking about last Friday's 27-0 blanking of West Jefferson.

He was particularly impressed with his offensive unit, that controlled the tempo of the game. It was also the first shutout for the TV defense.

The turning point in an otherwise disappointing year for the Vikings was a 3-2 TV win over Marysville two weeks ago. "That gave us confidence," Kidwell said.

A win would even the Vikes overall mark at 4-4 and their Metro mark at 3-3.

Hamilton Twp. has clinched at least a tie for the title with a 5-0 mark, while Olentangy and Dublin are 3-2. The Vikes are tied with Marysville, West Jefferson, and Franklin Heights at 2-3.

In last week's important win, Chuck Glitt connected on 10 of 17 passes for 199 yards to up his season totals to 46 of 98 completions for 738 yards.

In recording the shutout, the Vikings

held WJ to 78 yards rushing and 12 passing while intercepting four passes.

Grandview will present special problems for the Vikings, according to Kidwell.

The Bobcats play a 5-3 slant defense under new head coach Harry Hauenstein that will mean some adjustments for the TV linemen.

They have a limited offensive attack, based primarily on a passing attack. When forced to run, they like to head for the outside.

Teays Valley will be without the services of Mike Wilson, who has a cracked arm, and Lloyd Windon, who pulled some muscles in his back.

Bill Hurley will be the fullback behind Glitt and Brad Stuthard and Ron Foreman will alternate as tailbacks.

Westfall's Mustangs, fresh from a 28-14 romp over Huntington last week, saw their season mark jump to 4-3 and SVC record sky to 2-1. Undeclared Adena leads the loop.

They travel to Piketon Friday in an effort to improve upon those records.

In the Huntington clash, sophomore John Long scored four times for the Mustangs and gained 202 of his team's 288 offensive yards.

Meanwhile, the Mustang defense held Huntington to 154 yards on the ground and 40 in the air.

A win against Piketon would set-up John Glanton's team for the big game against Paint Valley Nov. 1, the final clash of the year for the Mustangs.

Phillies with six votes; Atlanta's Clyde King with three and Cincinnati's Sparky Anderson with two.

Alston took a relatively young team to the heights this year. It was his tender, loving care that made champions out of the Dodgers.

"I know that the players have enough to think about on the field, so I try not to give them too many problems in the clubhouse," says the easy-going Alston.

Known as a superb handler of men, Alston's tempered personality gave the Dodgers quiet confidence throughout the tough National League West battle with the Cincinnati Reds. In modern terminology, Alston kept the Dodger ship "rocking steady."

Once asked his philosophy, the dean of major league managers noted: "I pat most everybody on the back and kick the rare ones that need to be kicked."

Alston was born in Hamilton, Ohio, 62 years ago and once worked as a high school basketball coach and science teacher. He entered the Dodger organization with their Trenton, N.J., team and also managed at Montreal before being named the Dodger field boss for

Rams Trade John Hadl To Packers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Football League played musical chairs — with quarterbacks.

By the time the game was over, four clubs had new quarterbacks.

The Los Angeles Rams had the biggest surprise Tuesday, final day for interclub trading — and got the biggest reward, five draft choices from the Green Bay Packers for John Hadl.

That's right, the Rams traded away John Hadl, the quarterback who made all pro after leading them to a 12-2 record last year. Hadl couldn't get the Los Angeles offense to move this year.

It meant that James Harris' promotion to starter is permanent. The 27-year-old black quarterback threw three touchdown passes last Sunday and got the Los Angeles offense cracking for the first time in 1974.

In the other deals involving quarterbacks, Craig Morton, the disenchanted Dallas Cowboy backup man, was sent to the New York Giants, who dealt journeyman veteran Norm Snead to the San Francisco 49ers, who then traded Joe Reed to the Detroit Lions.

Archie Manning, however, stayed with the New Orleans Saints, who apparently couldn't make the right deal for their quarterback by the 4 p.m., EDT, Tuesday trading deadline, even though he was benched last week. Manning had been on the trading block, reliable league sources reported.

In the day's other exchanges, defensive tackle Curley Culp and a 1975 No. 1 draft choice went from the Kansas City Chiefs to the Houston Oilers for defensive tackle John Matuszak and a No. 2 draft pick for 1976. Cornerback Jim Marsalis was dealt by the Chiefs to the Denver Broncos in exchange for tackle Tom Drougas and linebacker Tom Graham.

Walt Alston Manager Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Alston, the Los Angeles Dodgers' unflappable general, was named The Associated Press' National League Manager of the Year today.

The stoic Alston, who guided the Dodgers to the National League pennant this season for the seventh time in his 21-year big league career, won in a rout.

Alston outscored Danny Murtaugh, manager of the National League East champion Pittsburgh Pirates, 290 votes to 87. Voting by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters took place prior to the league's playoffs.

Red Schoendienst, whose St. Louis Cardinals battled Pittsburgh down to the end for the East title, finished third in the balloting with 26 votes.

Finishing behind the top three were, Danny Ozark of the Philadelphia

Paul Brown Looks Ahead To Oilers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Paul Brown says the Cincinnati Bengals will have to bury Sunday's "devastating" loss to Oakland and "get our chins up" for the unpredictable Houston Oilers.

"We can't look backwards," said Brown, after the Bengals, 4-2, fell out first place in the Central Division of the American Football Conference.

Brown remains convinced a 10-4 can win the division. "It did last year," he said. "I'd take a 10-4 right now and settle for it."

The Pittsburgh Steelers lead Cincinnati with a 4-1-1 record.

"I'd have to say they have the easier schedule," said Brown.

Meanwhile, the Bengals are attempting to recover from injuries which have riddled their depth chart. Among the ailing is kicking specialist Horst Muhlmann, who has a recurring leg problem. "We may let Horst take a game or two off," said Brown.

The kicking duties would fall to Dave Green, who kicked off once during Sunday's 30-27 loss to the Raiders.

Messenger guard John Shinnery injured a left leg while blocking on a touchdown plunge by "Boobie" Clark.

CHS Harriers Top Hamilton

Circleville cross country team defeated Hamilton Twp. 22-37 Tuesday in spite of the first place finish by Hamilton runner Dan Callie.

Callie was clocked in 10:55 for the two miles. Bill Massie was second in 11:13, Jeff Carter third in 11:21 and Doug Baker fourth in 11:34.

Other Circleville runners and their times were: Raymond Smith, 11:49; Dave Uland, 11:50; Randy Speakman, 12:00; Randy Swoyer, 12:15; Ed Brown, 12:58; Joel Baker, 13:20; Dwight Plum, 13:54.

"We got a good effort from sophomore Randy Smith, Dave Uland and Randy Speakman," CHS coach John Lawhorn reported.

Circleville runs 11 a.m. Saturday in the district at Raymond Memorial Golf Course in Columbus.

the 1954 season.

Alston signed a one-year contract that season, and uniquely has kept up the pattern throughout his glamorous career.

"One-year contracts are a matter of pride with me," Alston says. "I wouldn't want to work anywhere where I wasn't wanted."

Alston's accomplishments stamp him as one of the most successful managers of all time. Only two men have managed one team longer than Alston has. Connie Mack managed 50 years with the Philadelphia Athletics and John McGraw had 31 years with the New York Giants.

Alston has won four World Championships, a feat surpassed in the game by only three other managers. And only four managers in the history of major league baseball have won more pennants.

Bobby Bonds Traded For Bob Murcer

NEW YORK (AP) — Gabe Paul is at it again.

The president of the New York Yankees looks like everybody's grandfather, smiling and always affable. He is also always ready to make a trade.

Paul has remodeled the ball club with a series of major trades, the latest one Tuesday when he swapped Bobby Murcer to the San Francisco Giants for Bobby Bonds, in an exchange of two of baseball's top outfielders.

The Bonds-Murcer swap, made on the first day of the inter-league trading period, ranks as one of the biggest one-for-one deals ever made in terms of the names involved.

The Yankees' National League rivals, the New York Mets, also made a deal Tuesday, sending reserve catcher Duffy Dyer to the Pittsburgh Pirates for outfielder Gene Clines. In the day's other trade, the Milwaukee Brewers sent second baseman John Vukovich to the Cincinnati Reds for lefthanded pitcher Pat Osburn.

Bonds and Murcer both are 28 years old, both earn more than $100,000 and both arrived in the major leagues at about the same time.

Bonds was called up to the Giants midway through the 1968 season and hit a grand slam home run in his first major league game. He set a major league record by opening 11 games with home runs in 1973.

Murcer came up for keeps in 1969 and his 140 career homers placed him 17th on the Yankees' all-time list. Bonds hit 186 for San Francisco, No. 6 on the Giants' list.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Back in 1947, TV cameras were allowed in the House chamber to cover the 80th Congress' opening session. Neither House has allowed live, from-the-chamber coverage of its regular sessions since then. But this may be changing soon.

The Joint Committee on Congressional Operations this month issued a report recommending that live radio-TV coverage of regular sessions of both House and Senate be allowed on a one-year trial basis in 1975.

It notes that while presidents have become increasingly sophisticated in the use of radio and TV, Congress 'has followed an approach to communications that is essentially passive and in some instances restrictive.'

And it contends that "Congress must now actively seek ways to reach and inform more people through the mass media." It suggests that Congress should try to correct the imbalance of influence created by the ready access of presidents to national radio and television.

To get the ball rolling, the report recommends that the broadcast test start as soon as possible after the opening of the 94th Congress next year.

It recommends that TV coverage be kept closed-circuit for 60 days and radio coverage for 30 days to iron out whatever technical problems arise.

After that, it says, video and audio feeds of the floor sessions of both Houses can be made available free to commercial and public broadcasters, for use live or on videotape in news or public affairs programs.

It suggests that the committee supervising the test subsequently recommend to the Congress whether the system should be made permanent prior to the start of the nation's bicentennial.

It doesn't say who might run the radio operation, although a committee spokesman says it probably would be the National Public Radio system.

The report, which has yet to be acted on by congressional leaders, suggests they consider "inviting" the Public Broadcasting Service to submit proposals for setting up and operating the TV system, at least during the test.

No invitation has come yet, according to Hartford Gunn Jr., head of PBS. He said the question of what his organization will do when and if it gets the invitation will be discussed by PBS' executive committee when it meets Thursday and Friday in Muncie, Ind.

He said PBS, while honored by being considered for the invitation, hasn't taken any position yet on whether it'd like to run Congress' TV eye.

There's a big question, he said, of who'd foot the bill and "I'm sure it can't be funded out of existing public television resources, because we've already got them stretched pretty thin."

"So my guess is that the money would either have to come from Congress itself or from outside foundations and contributions."

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Mixed influences. In all endeavors, be selective and stress quality rather than quantity of effort. News from afar may surprise—pleasantly.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Things should start picking up for you now. However, a whole new approach to an undertaking already under way could be your best road to achievement. Postpone new ventures.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Do not let yourself be "thrown" by certain distractions. The well-developed Geminian has unusual ability to concentrate on his objectives, so put it to use NOW.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Do not try to change pre-planned activities or reverse tactics without giving others adequate notice. Careful explanation of your decisions can prevent misunderstandings.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Do not let overoptimism lead you into making dubious investments. In fact, it would be a mistake to make any drastic changes in your financial set-up at the moment.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): If extra responsibilities are thrust upon you, accept gladly those which you can reasonably handle but draw the line if anyone tries to take advantage of your good nature.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Caution urged in business negotiations. Certain factors you may have taken for granted may prove otherwise. Be especially careful where details are concerned.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): A sharp and, in some areas, unexpected surge of activity. Keep in step with events—but without anxiety.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Certain situations may be more complex than you realize. Avoid any involvement that could damage your prestige.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Morning hours favor the exchange of ideas, programming for future activities, business conferences generally. Accent is on the social after 3 p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Keep both feet on the ground now. There's a tendency to confuse the imaginatively creative with the offbeat and impractical.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Be prepared for surprises—especially in social circles. Certain odd persons or bizarre doings may raise your eyebrows. But you WILL be amused.

Man Retires After 53 Years

RETIRING—Gordon Rihl and Richard Vincent, left, congratulate Ralph E. Hartman on his retirement from the position as Bridge Superintendent of District Six of the Ohio Department of Transportation. Hartman's wife, Mary, is on the right.

Ralph E. Hartman was honored by employees of Pickaway County District Six of the Ohio Department of Transportation Tuesday at a pre-retirement party. Hartman, who has served 53 years with the state, is retiring Oct. 25 as Bridge Superintendent of District Six, which includes Pickaway, Fayette, Madison, Franklin, Union, Delaware, Marion, and Morrow Counties.

Tarlton News

MRS. JOE JENKINS — 474-5542

The King's Helpers Class of the Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cox, on Saturday evening, at 7:30 p.m.

We wish a happy birthday to Mrs. Grace Horn of near Laurelville who will be observing her 91st birthday on Nov. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Diehl of Chillicothe were recent visitors of Mr. Diehl's sister, Mrs. Lenna Turvey. Keith Turvey, of Tarrytown, N.Y., was the weekend guest of his mother, Mrs. Lenna Turvey, and visited other relatives in the area.

Mrs. Viola Hartranft visited on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Hulda Dean, of Circleville.

Mrs. Helen Strous and Mrs. Viola Hartranft visited Mrs. May Rhymer on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Rhymer is convalescing, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hartley, after having undergone surgery at Doctors Hospital.

It was nice to see Mrs. Hazel Hartranft, one of our senior citizens, riding in the little Miss Pumpkin Show parade, with her grandson, Roger Hartranft, and great-granddaughter, Dawn Renee Hartranft.

Recent visitors of the Richard Ballards were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hinton, Mrs. Marie Dearth and Mrs. Evelyn Kern of Chillicothe.

Mrs. Russell Jones and Mrs. Nelson Jones have returned to their homes, after being patients at Berger Hospital. Russell Jones remains a patient at Riverside Hospital, but hopes to be home in the near future.

We wish a speedy recovery to Charles Pine, who is a patient in Berger Hospital.

Mrs. James (Elizabeth) Boyer is a patient at Ross County Medical Center, having sustained a fractured hip in a fall, at Crites Rest Home, Stoutsville.

Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Letha Murray and Tessie were Mr. and Mrs. Art Murray Jr. and daughter of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Mock, Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Smith and family, Adelphi; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Murray and family, Route 4, Circleville; and Mr. and Mrs. David Owens and sons, Tarlton.

The "Forever Young" singing group of Senior Citizens will be at the St. Jacob's Lutheran Church service on Nov. 3 at 10:45 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dove, Columbus, were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. David Hartranft and family, of Route 4, Circleville.

Don't forget to set your clocks back one hour, at 2 a.m., Sunday, when the nation will go on standard time for the four winter months.

I (Toots Smith) would like to take this opportunity to thank the Tarlton Volunteer Fire Department for their assistance in helping the Auxiliary with their float during Pumpkin Show. We placed third in our category. Also, I would like to thank the girls who worked so hard in getting our float ready for the parade.

Our next project is the Halloween Parade and a bake sale to be held at the firehouse this Sunday. Our parade will be at 3 p.m. and bake sale to begin at 12 noon. The Auxiliary would appreciate all donations to make our bake sale a big success.

To give you an idea of what the auxiliary is for, we are a money

Vets Reminded To Check Beneficiaries

Make certain the right person is beneficiary on your GI insurance policy, reminds James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer to all veterans in Pickaway County covered under the government life insurance program.

Otherwise, you may add to emotional stress of survivors when it is discovered the intended beneficiary was not named on the policy, it was explained by Shea.

In such cases, the VA is obligated by law to pay insurance proceeds to the beneficiary of record. Most of the VA's insureds are World War II veterans who carry National Service Life Insurance.

The problem of insurance benefits going to an unintended recipient arises in most instances because the veteran simply never gets around to changing his beneficiary, said Shea. In a typical case, the veteran named his mother as beneficiary when he first took out his policy. When he married, he forgot to notify VA that he wished to change his beneficiary. Besides emotional stress, the result often is unwarranted financial hardship, especially for his widow and young children.

The service officer urges any veteran who wishes to ascertain or change his beneficiary to contact his office in the basement of the Court House.

LE Boosters Hold Meeting

The Logan Elm Boosters club met Oct. 14 in the high school with 32 members present.

President Tom Calton discussed Pumpkin Show prizes and David Price gave the prize for band uniforms.

The purchase of a new camera and projector is being planned by the athletes and boosters.

The next meeting of the boosters will be Nov. 11 at 8 p.m. with a tour of the night school on the agenda.

Army Names Airman Honorary Recruiter

HONORARY RECRUITER—Paul Moody, Route 1, Ashville, became the first Pickaway Countian to receive an honorary Recruiter certificate. Making the award is Sgt. William Bradshaw of the local recruiting office, while Sgt. Jerry Hill, left, looks on.

Paul Moody, Route 1, Ashville, was honored Tuesday "for outstanding service contributing to the recruiting effort" of the United States Army by the Pickaway County Army Recruiting office.

He was named an honorary Army recruiter.

The irony of it is that he served through three wars and earned the Silver Star, Bronze Star, and Joint Services Commendation Medal among a raft of other medals and honors in 27 years' service with the Air Force.

He retired in September, 1972, with the rank of senior master sergeant.

His service record includes 19 years of overseas duty and 15 years with NATO forces. Now he works as a nursing assistant at the Veteran's Hospital, Chillicothe.

Local recruiters Sgt. Jerry Hill and Sgt. William Bradshaw presented Moody the award "because he's talked to a lot of kids" about serving in the Armed Forces.

He is at least directly responsible for the recruitment in the Army of four people, including three members of his family.

His son, Paul I. Moody, is currently serving in Ft. Jackson, S.C., after joining in 1973; his nephew, Paul E. Moody, who enlisted at the same time, is serving in Germany; his daughter, Margret, will report in November under the delay entry program; and a friend, Glen Mitchell, will be enlisting next month.

"These are some of the people we have known who have been influenced by Mr. Moody," the recruiters said. He doesn't stress the Army as a branch of service, as he is an obvious authority on the Air Force, but most of the people have opted for that branch of the service.

Moody talks of the services to youngsters "because I feel we should have a strong military force at all times."

Russian Radar New Construction Worries Military

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is asking Russia about some puzzling construction and radar developments to make sure they do not violate the nuclear arms limitation agreement, administration sources say.

These sources stressed there is no evidence of any Soviet cheating but that "we are approaching the Russians on certain ambiguities, certain things they are doing."

In recent months, U.S. reconnaissance satellites reportedly have picked up photographic evidence that the Russians are building something that looks as though it could be new ICBM silos.

Sources also said the United States is asking the Russians about signs that they are developing a new mobile radar that some experts think could be used in connection with the Soviet antimissile system.

Presumably Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will discuss the matter with the Russians during his Moscow talks.

The 1972 interim agreement on strategic offensive weapons forbids the construction of any additional launching silos for intercontinental ballistic missiles beyond those in place or being built as of July 1, that year. "Something is being constructed," said one administration source, describing the number as small.

"They say it is for command and control," he added, indicating the United States already has had some discussions with the Russians.

There is nothing in SALT agreement to bar new underground bunkers for controlling the Soviet missile force.

The 1972 U.S.-Soviet treaty limiting antimissile systems states specifically that "each party undertakes not to develop, test, or deploy ABM systems or components which are sea-based, air based, space based, or mobile land based."

There was some opinion that the new radar is designed to improve Russian anti-aircraft defenses, rather than the Soviet ABM system.

Deserters Could Quit, Escape Cost

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Military deserters processed under President Ford's clemency offer could quit the public service jobs they agree to work and would likely face no criminal action, a military spokesman said Tuesday.

U.S. Marine Corps Lt. Dale Baird, public affairs officer for the President, said the only thing binding a deserter to the alternate service is "his word of good faith."

Baird, information officer at the nation's only processing center for war resisters, said such persons would not be subject to prosecution.

"We only have his word—his good faith pledge—that he will stay at the job for the time he's suppose to serve," Baird said.

"If we get thousands who quit their jobs, something will have to be done," he said.

Baird said less than one-third of the 12,000 deserters eligible for the conditional amnesty have indicated an interest in accepting the President's offer.

He said more than 50 deserters a day are being processed at the Joint Processing Center at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

"We've had 3,899 calls," he said, but only 1,327 have surrendered to authorities.

"I look for the big push to come in January. A lot of people in Canada are holding off" to see the treatment given those who accept amnesty, Baird said.

Luken, the third Democrat to be elected in the heavily Republican district this century, is seeking reelection to a full term. He is opposed by Gradison, the Republican he defeated in a special election last spring. Both are former Cincinnati mayors.

"The first thing we had to do was get rid of Mr. Nixon," Luken said in the debate. "I think we performed that with great honor."

Glenn is opposed by Republican Ralph Perk, the Mayor of Cleveland.

Glenn said there is currently no senator who has any background in those fields.

Defense Lawyers Attack John Dean's Credibility

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former White House counsel John W. Dean III testified at the Watergate cover-up trial today that in 1972 and 1973 he made personal use of $4,850 withdrawn from a $350,000 secret White House fund.

The admission was drawn out in cross-examination by defense lawyer John J. Wilson in an apparent effort to discredit Dean's character before the eyes of the jury.

In two days of cross-examination, Wilson has yet to attack the substance of Dean's narration of how he participated for nine months in covering up the Watergate scandals.

Defense lawyers acknowledge privately that six White House tapes heard by the jury so far make it difficult to dent the testimony given by Dean during five days on the witness stand under prosecution questioning.

Dean testified in detail before the Senate Watergate committee about his personal use of money from the White House fund. Its significance in the trial is how it affects the jury's opinion of his character and honesty.

Under cross-examination today, Dean testified that $15,200 in cash was delivered to his office by White House aide Gordon Strachan.

Dean told the jury that on Oct. 12, 1972, the eve of his honeymoon, he took out $4,850, part of which was spent on the trip and part of which was used for miscellaneous expenditures over the next six months.

Wilson repeatedly questioned Dean about the propriety of using the funds without advising anyone at the White House.

"For a period of six months you used money that didn't belong to you, didn't you?" Wilson asked.

Dean: "Yes, sir."

Dean's blonde wife, Maureen, was present in the courtroom as he described the use of the funds.

The former White House counsel acknowledged that although he placed a $4,850 check written to cash in his office safe with the balance of the funds, there was not an adequate balance in his checking account to cover that amount.

Dean said, however, that he had other personal funds, including a stock brokerage account totaling $80,000 at one point, which he was prepared to use to account for the $4,850.

Dean said that in April 1973, he informed his lawyer about the $4,850 and the more than $10,000 remaining in the cash originally placed in his White House safe.

Dean said the total $15,200 is now held in a noninterest bearing account in a bank in suburban Rockville, Md.

Meanwhile, there was an indication Tuesday that former President Richard M. Nixon may testify in the trial. His attorney, Herbert J. Miller, asked for transcripts of White House tape recordings used in the trial so Nixon can prepare his testimony.

Nixon has been subpoenaed by defendants Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, and Miller told U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica in a motion:

"It... may be anticipated that he will be questioned in detail about events and conversations extending back at least 2½ years."

Miller said the tapes will be part of the court record by the time Nixon testifies and that the request "represents a reasonable, simple accommodation, making it possible for Mr. Nixon to begin at once the necessary and helpful refreshing of his memory."

Wilson said Tuesday he plans to question Dean about his personal use of $4,850 from a secret $350,000 White House political fund.

Dean has testified previously that without telling White House superiors he withdrew the cash in hopes of using

KSU Trial Challenges Slated

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Preemptory challenges today removed three of the 12 tentatively seated jurors in the trial of eight former Ohio National Guardsmen indicted in the 1970 Kent State University shootings, but two were replaced quickly.

A challenge by the defense led to dismissal of Ralph L. Rumsey of Avon Lake, an air traffic controller at Oberlin. Government challenges brought dismissal of Jessie McGuire of Grafton, a butcher and parttime farmer, and Paul Bechtel of Bucyrus, a county worker there.

Tentatively seated were Thomas Hallauer of Elyria, a heating plant engineer at nearby Oberlin College, and Christine Stroup, a housewife in the Akron suburb of Mogadore.

One of the jurors called as a possible replacement from the original pool of 125 was dismissed by U.S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti when she answered negatively to his question as to whether she considered the defendants innocent until proven guilty.

The government has six of the challenges by which a prospective juror may be rejected without the challenging attorney giving a reason. The defense has 10, but Battisti has said that because of the large number of defendants, he may grant more if necessary in the interests of justice.

The government challenged one man because he is a member of the National Guard. Another was challenged because he said in answer to a question that if he were the prosecutor in the trial, he wouldn't present the case to a jury of 12 persons of the same frame of mind as his.

Two jurors were seated tentatively Monday, the first day of the trial. They were Ralph L. Rumsey of Avon Lake, a Federal Aviation Administration air traffic controller at Oberlin, and Constance Hillson, a 23-year-old housewife from suburban Garfield Heights.

The tentative panel was completed Tuesday with the selection of Alex Gross, a University Heights insurance agent; Paul Mack, a truck driver for a Cleveland department store; George Muntean, 52, a Strongsville toolmaker; Patrick Misanko, 21, an Akron rubber worker; William Pinter of Euclid, a medical photographer for a Cleveland hospital;

Jessie McGuire of Grafton, a butcher and parttime farmer; Paul Bechtel of Bucyrus, a county worker;

Louis Quintero, a former Glenn campaign volunteer who was to open offices in the Spanish-speaking sections of Youngstown, Cleveland and Toledo. The warrants contend Quintero wrote bad checks totaling $65,000 allegedly for repayment of loans he obtained in Glenn's name.

Glenn's campaign manager, Stephen J. Kovacic Jr., responded to Perk's letter quoting portions of an editorial in the Cleveland Press on Tuesday:

"It is perhaps natural that...Perk would hop on this issue, especially since the Perk campaign is sagging badly (according to all the polls)."

"We hope Perk doesn't try to ride this side issue all the way to election day. This election is going to be decided on the issues and on the voters' perception of the candidates' qualities...And Perk should know better than to imply that it changes Glenn's record for integrity."

Both candidates are invited to appear at a journalism society meeting for a debate tonight in Columbus.

Rep. John Ashbrook, a Republican in Congress since 1960, told his Democratic opponent in the 17th district that it was the top Democratic leaders who maintained tradition in Washington.

Ashbrook was responding to David D. Noble's plea to voters to send new faces, such as his, to Congress because the current leaders are not doing the job. The two candidates debated Tuesday in Mansfield.

Democratic leaders such as House Speaker Carl Albert and Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield "and others like Wilbur Mills (of Arkansas) and Russell B. Long (of Louisiana) are responsible for many problems, such as tax loopholes, you are talking about," Ashbrook said.

Noble claimed Congress has failed to provide legislation to solve the country's inflation and energy problems, tax reform and enforcement of antitrust laws, especially in areas of food and fuel.

"There is a tendency in the past to put the interests of America last. This is wrong as I have said all along. We've allowed foreign policy to dictate what we do. This is one basic change we must make. I've always said we must put America's priorities first," Ashbrook said.

One person is hospitalized and another injured slightly as a result of a shooting incident that occurred about 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Walnut Twp.

Admitted to University Hospital, Columbus, with a bullet lodged in his head is Ray Meade.

The shooting is still under investigation Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff reports.

The sheriff's department received an operator-assisted call at 7:23 p.m. Tuesday in which an hysterical sounding voice screamed "They're going to shoot us." A few minutes later another call reported shots were fired at the Robert Meade residence on the Ashville-Fairfield Road just east of Walnut Twp. School.

The sheriff's department rushed three cars to the scene where they found Raymond Meade with the wound in the head and Barbara Lunsford with a superficial wound to the leg. Raymond's wound is apparently not serious, Sheriff Radcliff said.

Conflicting statements of persons involved in the shooting have made it difficult to complete the investigation Radcliff said today.

Apparently an argument developed between A. J. Case, who occupies a part of the residence, and the Meades. Case, who is blind, feared for his life and rushed to the second floor of his portion of the residence. There he grabbed a gun and began firing down the stairs. Two of the bullets found their marks.

Robert Meade, who is accused of larceny by fraud by the Ohio Department of Welfare, was arrested by the sheriff and placed in custody under $5,000 bond.

Radcliff says no charges have been filed yet in the shooting.

Papadopoulos Arrested In Greece

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Former dictator George Papadopoulos and four of his closest associates have been arrested and exiled to a remote part of Greece on charges of plotting to regain power, the government announced today.

The announcement said those arrested with Papadopoulos were his former deputy premiers, Stylianos Patakos and Nicholas Makarezos; one of the hard-line ministers in his regime, Ioannis Ladas; and the former chief of the central intelligence agency, Michael Roufoglakis.

Authoritative sources said the five men were taken to the small island of Kea, about 60 miles southeast of Athens.

The government's announcement said Papadopoulos and the other four "undertook conspiratorial activity, creating anxiety and the conditions conducive to the disturbance of public peace and order," at the time of upcoming parliamentary elections.

The elections — Greece's first in more than 10 years — have been scheduled for Nov. 17 by the reform regime of Premier Constantine Caramanlis.

The announcement also indicated that more charges will probably be filed against the five men. It said their confinement made it impossible for them to escape from Greece while the leaders of the military dictatorship are being investigated.

The government announced Tuesday that Papadopoulos has been under house arrest for the last three weeks "for making conspiratorial moves." There have been persistent reports that leaders of the ousted military regime were plotting to make a comeback.

Twister Office Closed

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — The Butler County Board of Health has closed its Pishgah temporary office which was set up April 3 to deal with problems left by tornadoes.

Hunt, then among the original seven Watergate defendants, had compiled names and addresses of men who had helped in the 1971 break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, according to Dean's testimony.

The former White House counsel said he shredded the notebooks because he had known of the Ellsberg

Charges Traded In Ohio Political Drives

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. Rep. Thomas Luken, D-Ohio, demanded that top former Nixon officials leave the Ford Administration, and his Republican opponent Willis D. Gradison Jr. charged that Lukens's voting had supported inflationary measures.

Luken, following a debate with Gradison Tuesday at the University of Cincinnati, called for the firings of U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, Postmaster General E. T. Klassen, Treasury Secretary William Simon and Federal Energy Administration chief John Sawhill.

Gradison hit Luken's proposals to cut military spending and added that while he was for cutting government spending, "where I am talking about millions, Mr. Luken is talking about billions."

"I want to know where the cuts are coming so I am sure that they will not hurt the security of the country."

"We have Nixon advisors still doing the same thing they were doing when Nixon was in office," said Luken, referring to the new Soviet wheat

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market fell broadly in moderate trading today, led by auto stocks and glamor issues.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 14.63 at 648.23 at noon, and issues falling in price outnumbered gainers by 3-1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said profit-taking was spurred by concern over government reports issued Tuesday showing a drop in durable goods orders accompanied by a 1.2 per cent climb in consumer prices for September.

Avon Products led the Big Board actives, off 1 1/2% at 22 1/2% including a 99,900-share block at 22 1/2%.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was off 0.58 at 69.15.

Motor stocks were especially weak among the most actively traded issues, reacting to lower earnings, sales and production levels being reported. General Motors declined a point to 33 1/2, Ford 1 1/2 to 31 1/2, and Chrysler 1/2 to 10 1/2.

CRUNCHER—Martha Montgomery, 47, Route 4, was treated at Berger Hospital for back and neck injuries and a lacerated right leg following a three-vehicle accident 7:45 a.m. Wednesday on Route 56, east of Hitler Rd. Mrs. Montgomery was driving west of Route 56, followed by a dump truck loaded with 14 tons of coal driven by Timothy L. Woltz, 21, Route 1, Ray. Sheriff's Deputies said Mrs. Montgomery slowed for an approaching Logan Elm School district bus driven by Gerald Wolford, 34, Route 1, Stoutsville, and carrying 24 LE high school students, when she was struck in the rear by the coal truck. Impact knocked her car into the bus and spun it around. The coal truck flipped to its side, spilling its load. Woltz was charged with failing to maintain assured clear distance.

Ohio GOP Voters Urged To Turn Out

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—President Ford says he doesn't believe it, but "the word is out...that) Ohio Republicans are not going to vote this year.

"They are turned off by politics," Ford told a Republican fund raising dinner Tuesday night. "They are going to sit this one out."

Urging party members to get out and vote to "send a message" to Congress in support of his anti-inflation program, Ford said for party members to fail to vote would be "akin to setting fire to your house to keep warm."

He plugged Republican Mayor Ralph J. Perk, who is running for the U.S. Senate, calling him a "great team player who deserves to be elected the next U.S. senator from Ohio."

Perk was among party dignitaries on hand to welcome the President. Missing from the group was former Gov. James A. Rhodes, the party's nominee for governor.

Rhodes, who has opposed Ford's 5 per cent surtax proposal, was attending a fundraising affair at Batavia.

Ford disappointed Ohio football fans by saying that because of a conflict with his upcoming trip to the Far East, he won't be able to attend the Michigan-Ohio State game at Columbus Nov. 23.

In another reference to football, he urged Americans to "make politics a spectator sport."

"If we can get 85,000 people out on Saturday to watch Ohio State win, why can't we get five million Buckeyes to come out on Nov. 5 to help America win?" he asked.

About 300 persons paid $500 a plate to attend the dinner at the Sheraton-Cleveland Hotel.

Ford left immediately afterward to return to Washington.

City Police Investigate Robbery

Vere Thomas, 89, 406 E. Franklin St., told Circleville police Tuesday he was robbed by two men who gained entry into his house by asking for assistance.

Thomas said that at 7:50 p.m. yesterday he answered the front door. A man told him he needed a pair of pliers to fix his car.

While he was in the house, another knocked at the rear door and was admitted to the house by Thomas. The two threw him to the floor and took $90 from his billfold and then fled. Police are investigating.

Man Dies Of Heart Attack

A Circleville man, Edmund Allen Byron, 57, 574 Garden Parkway, died of an apparent heart attack 9:42 a.m. Wednesday before his car crashed into a mailbox and fence post off Route 22 west of Williamsport.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies, who investigated the incident, theorize Byron died of the heart attack before the crash.

Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was administered at the scene by Lincoln Schwartz, New Holland.

Byron was a salesman for Capital Beauty Supply Co.

Funeral arrangements are being completed by Mader Funeral Home.

break-in since May or April of 1972.

Dean said that when assistant U.S. attorneys began asking him about the Hunt notebooks, he discovered they had been transferred to his own office safe from Hunt's White House safe shortly after the June 17, 1972, burglary at Democratic National Committee headquarters.

"You did not turn them over to the prosecutors?" Wilson asked about the notebooks.

Dean: "No sir, I destroyed them." Dean had said that in perusing the notebooks' pages, he saw no names or addresses he recognized and Wilson asked why, then, Dean placed them in his office shredder.

"I had been told there was information in them related to the individuals Mr. Hunt had used in the break-in at Dr. Ellsberg's psychiatrist's office," Dean replied. Wilson later asked, "Were you consciously making a move to cover up the Ellsberg burglary?"

Dean answered that he knew Hunt had pleaded guilty to the later break-in and that former acting FBI director L. Patrick Gray III also had destroyed other contents of Hunt's safe given him by another defendant, Ehrlichman.

Dean said, "I just went along and did the same thing, knowing that I was destroying material relating to another White House problem."

Wilson pressed further, asking again whether Dean was not covering up the Ellsberg burglary by personally deciding to shred the notebooks.

"Yes sir, I was," Dean said, adding, "I was just getting rid of something I didn't know how to handle so I threw them in the shredder and hoped the problem would go away."

Defense lawyer Wilson also elicited Dean's description of persuading California attorney Herbert W. Kalmbach to raise funds for the original Watergate defendants.

Wilson asked Dean whether, in addition to paying family expenses and lawyers' fees, the purpose of the money as described to Kalmbach was to "keep the mouths of these people shut."

Dean answered, "Yes, sir."

On trial with Ehrlichman and Haldeman are former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson. All are charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice; all but Mardian with obstruction of justice; and Mitchell, Haldeman and Ehrlichman with various counts of lying to investigators.

Meanwhile, the jury also heard the sixth White House tape to be played in concert with Dean's testimony.

The tape records an April 16, 1973, meeting during which Nixon is heard nervously attempting to arrange Dean's resignation as White House counsel.

Dean agrees to prepare a letter of resignation for use when needed, but repeatedly tells Nixon that Haldeman and Ehrlichman, then Nixon's closest aides, must quit, too.

Of Ehrlichman and Haldeman, Dean tells Nixon, "I think there is a mythical belief... that they don't have a problem, Mr. President."

"And I'm, I'm really not sure you're convinced they do, but I'm telling you they do."

Two weeks later, Dean was fired and Haldeman and Ehrlichman resigned with praise from Nixon as two of the finest public servants he had ever known.

Thieves Take Motorcycle

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies are searching for a thief who took a motorcycle from the front porch of the Route 1, Williamsport, home of William B. Houser about 3 a.m. Tuesday.

Houser told deputies he chained the front wheel to the fork of the 1974 750cc Honda, valued at $2,200, and placed the bike on his front porch.

Rains Fall In Southwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms were scattered across much of the Southwest today and rain spotted other sections of the nation.

The National Weather Service said a high flash flood potential existed in Arizona. The rain extended from Southern California into several Plains states.

Showers and thunderstorms also stretched from the Texas Panhandle into northeast Kansas.

In El Paso, Tex., hail the size of small oranges — some of it 3 1/4 inches in diameter — damaged several homes and automobiles. No injuries were reported.

Parts of New York and the Southeast, including Florida, also were soaked by scattered storms.

Skies were cloudy over the Great Lakes region and New England. But the rest of the nation generally had clear skies.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 22 at Kalispell, Mont., to 75 at Corpus Christi, Tex.; Miami, Fla., and Vero Beach, Fla.

Clay Wade Bridge Open

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Clay Wade Bailey Bridge over the Ohio River between Cincinnati and Covington, Ky., was to be reopened at 1 p.m. today, eight years after it was closed.

U.S. 25, 42 and 127 will be rerouted over the span, which is named for a Frankfort, Ky., newsman.

The old bridge, called the C&O, was closed to traffic in 1968 following an inspection of all Ohio River spans brought on by the Silver Bridge collapse.

The railroad portion of the bridge remained in service and highway traffic was rerouted over Interstate 75.

The rerouting left Cincinnati and Covington with daily traffic backups on the interstate during rush hours.

The new span will have three lanes. The center lane will be for northbound traffic during morning hours and southbound traffic in the evening.

Citizens Headquarters Open To Promote Teays Valley Bond Issue

COMMUNITY SUPPORT—Mrs. Vaughn Herdman and Mrs. Bill Trego, left and right rear, are manning the campaign headquarters for the Teays Valley "Taxpayers for Good, Basic Education Committee". The office, located over the Citizens Bank in Ashville, is dedicated to help citizens better understand the bond issue which will appear on the ballot Nov. 5. High school principal Bill Toney, also pictured, is chairman of the committee.

Campaign headquarters for the Teays Valley "Taxpayers for Good, Basic Education Committee" was opened Friday by Chairman Bill Toney and the office girls. Mrs. Vaughn Herdman and Mrs. Bill Trego. The office is located above the Citizens Bank on Main Street in Ashville and is being donated by the bank.

Toney, high school principal, is excited about the present efforts of the committee to bring the facts regarding the school's overcrowding and how the district voters can do something about it at the polls Nov. 5.

Residents are urged to call the committee office (983-4104) for information or speakers to help them better understand the proposals that

Wiggins Promoted To Foreman

SAMUEL L. WIGGINS

Samuel L. Wiggins was recently promoted to the position of manufacturing foreman in the local DuPont plant's Mylar finishing area.

Wiggins and his wife Marjorie live at Route 4. They are the parents of two children, Sammi Lynn and Stacey Luann.

A veteran of the United States Army, Wiggins served two years in Germany as a Spec. 4. He is a graduate of Laurelville High School and the son of Virginia E. Wiggins, Laurelville.

The new foreman came to the Du Pont Company April 2, 1962 as a manufacturing trainee and through a series of promotions later became a machine operator in the plant's finishing area.

Paper Shortage

There is something about paper that sets it apart from other commodities in the mind of the average person when he thinks about rising prices. Yet the cost of paper enters into everything people buy or do.

It wouldn't be difficult to come up with figures showing that paper prices advanced as greatly in the last five years as prices of gasoline or fuel oil. But paper enters more subtly into the cost of living.

Newsprint at $250 a ton in carload lots would have seemed fantastic two years ago. Some publishers say they can remember when it sold for $37.50 a ton.

Other grades of paper had advanced in proportion, whether used by schools, for correspondence or in grocery bags. Inflation has hit all grades and forms of paper hard.

Papermaking capacity is being increased, but not rapidly enough to create an oversupply. Manufacturers predict paper will be in tight supply for years.

Alas, Pour, Reggie

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Watching Reggie Jackson pour champagne all over the noble head of Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn was like seeing some infidel hit the Pope with a custard pie.

Can you imagine what would have happened to Babe Ruth if he had wetted down Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis with a schooner of suds after one of the Yankees' World Series victories? Probably would have been given 20 years in Sing Sing.

Verily, it is another day in baseball, another mood. The best team in the realm progresses to the championship while in a state of civil war. Its members largely resemble a flock of extras from an old silent movie about Barbary Coast pirates. They are dressed for a game against the Fats at the Elks outing. Their owner, Charlie Finley, is prouder of his arthritic mule than he is of his frisky manager, Alvin Dark. He took away Dark's sacred right to choose the team's lineup. At the summit of the victory celebration in the A's clubhouse, Finley said grumpily that he'd need a few days to decide whether to re-hire Dark for next season.

But Finley's A's play very well, with flair and confidence in every move. They are a young ballclub; could go on and on to break every Yankee record in the books.

Unless, of course, they decide instead to break one another's arms. Or Finley trades them for a 1975 model mule.

Speaking of champagne, Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, blames the bubbly for his recent troubles. He is now trying to explain to his Arkansas constituents how he happened to wind up, bloody and bowed, in a bizarre scene near the Tidal Basin in Washington, surrounded by a massage parlor queen, a stripper who dived into the water, and a couple of guys who didn't look much like residents of Little Rock.

"I drank some champagne and it went to my head," Wilbur is explaining. Case dismissed. Maybe.

The late Sam Rice, whose memory is preserved in the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., the pleasant little town where Abner Doubleday did not invent the game, was more than a classic hitter.

He set a little known record for alibiing one day near the end of his career. Washington was playing the Yankees. Sam, playing right field for the Senators, made a rare error. The easy-looking grounder went right through his legs and rolled on to the fence. A Yankee runner or two scored.

When the inning ended, Sam returned to his customary place in the Washington dugout. The silence was as thick as slumgullion stew. None of his peers berated him, perhaps in deference to his years with the team and his great record.

Surprisingly, it was Sam who broke the silence.

"That damn' Ruth," he muttered. "Ruth?" somebody asked, bewildered.

"Yeah," Sam said grimly. "He spits all over right field. That ball hit some of it and skidded right through my legs."

The next time the FCC investigates television, which will be any minute now, it should look into the matter of the relationship between anchormen and their meteorologists.

Something is going on between those fellows, some secret joke the public has a right to know about. Both anchorman and weatherman tend to become convulsed during their brief exchanges.

ANCHORMAN: "Now, here's J. Ramsbottom Wuggs with the weather."

WEATHERMAN (choking with laughter): "Thanks, Clarence, you do have a way of putting me on. Get it? I remember last night's quip of yours when you introduced me by saying, 'Now, the weather, from our meteorologist, J. Ramsbottom Wuggs.'"

ANCHORMAN (overcome with chuckles): "Thank you J. Ramsbottom Wuggs! You add a lot to our happy show."

When the meteorologist recovers from that rapier thrust, he smiles and chortles through a 60-second description of ruinous floods, earthquakes, monsoons and, of course, "patchy fog."

They're trying to say something to us, FCC. Find out what. Remember who pays your salaries!

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

There is talk going on that there will be shortage of natural gas because a handful of corporations that control its extraction and distribution decided some years ago not to drill for new wells. A gas shortage has been inevitable for years because this handful of corporations decided to use the weapon of creating a shortage until they can get their way on prices, pollution, and taxes.

When there is a shortage of gasoline and heating oils, it is not because there is a basic shortage of raw fuel available. There is a shortage because the top oil corporations some time ago, in a clear criminal conspiracy, decided not to build new oil refineries. They calculated how much they were refining, how fast the gas and oil was being used up, and they calculated then to create an energy crisis. There was a gasoline shortage last year but the corporations did not move to build new oil refineries. Instead they stored the raw fuel underground.

The root of the energy crisis is a shortage of refining capacity. As of this day no new refineries are under construction and the oil corporations have not lifted a finger to build new refineries. The existing refineries have been working at full capacity for some time. It is this that explains why, even if the Mid-East oil returns to its original flow, the energy crisis would not be over.

Because of the conspiracy, not to build refineries, the usual reserve of fuel oils and gasoline is depleted. That explains why the Mid-East cutoff has such an immediate effect.

Why this conspiracy? It is a clear cut policy of extortion. The monopolies are holding the gun. It is a hijacking of the greatest magnitude. The demand of the monopoly gangsters is: "Let us increase the price and pollute the air, or else!" How dare they blackmail the American people. Among other things, they want the government to build refineries and hand them over to the corporations. They want still more tax allowances, even though the federal government's oil depletion allowances are the biggest crimes of this century.

How is it possible for these few corporations to get away with this conspiracy? They are able to get away with it because (1) the energy establishment is in the grip of two or three corporations, and (2) because the state, too, is in the conspiracy with them.

The top ten corporations control 70 per cent of the fuel production. The same top ten corporations control most of the oil, gasoline and coal production. They have a grip on the energy jugular vein of the nation. There is no limit to what the corporations want. During the third quarter of 1973, the profits of the energy ventures went up as follows: Gulf Oil-91 per cent; Exxon-80 per cent, Mobil-65 per cent, and Occidental by 7,153 per cent. But in spite of this, they want more and more.

The nation cannot afford to have its life and death resources in the hands of irresponsible, cold-blooded gangsters without a social conscience. Public utilities must belong to the public.

There is a need for a totally new energy structure. There is a need for a democratically elected and controlled National Energy Council — a Council that will own and operate all energy related businesses from the oil, coal and gas fields to the refineries, to their distribution, including all power plants and nuclear plants.

Americanize now, the oil, gas and fuel — the whole energy sector of the economy.

Dear Editor:

Nine hundred eleven high school students and innumerable junior high kids funnel through the narrow halls of Teays Valley during the session overlap period every school day.

Students clamor, push and shove to get to classrooms that are more crowded yet. How much longer will we have to tolerate this? How well can a student learn in classrooms of 40 or more?

This November, a school levy is once again on the ballot for the Teays Valley District. Voters are now even less willing to pay higher taxes, especially if they have no children or relatives in the school system.

However, I do not consider so much whether the taxpayer can afford a few extra dollars in taxes but rather whether the school and students can afford the lower quality education necessitated by school overcrowding. Teachers have so many students that they can never begin to give each student the fundamental attention deserved. As a result, many students lose interest in school work and their grades plummet: potential doctors, teachers, scientists, writers vanish. And what becomes of the future?

As a high school senior who has tolerated this over-crowding and under-learning for the past four years and to a lesser degree in elementary school at Scioto and Ashville, I want to encourage all conscientious voters to vote for the school levy — for the future's sake.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 23, the 296th day of 1974. There are 69 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1917, American troops saw their first action on the Western Front in World War I, in fighting near Lunenburg, France.

On this date — In 1929, stock market prices began to plunge in heavy trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

In 1942, in World War II, the British launched a big offensive against Axis forces at El Alamein in Egypt.

In 1944, the Allies recognized a French provisional government headed by Charles de Gaulle.

Ten years ago: The new premier of the Soviet Union, Alexei Kosygin, received U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler and told him peaceful co-existence remained Moscow's policy toward the West.

Five years ago: U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge refused to speak at the Vietnam peace negotiations in Paris, charging the Communists with using abusive language against the United States.

One year ago: The Israeli military command announced that Israel and Egypt had agreed to a new cease-fire agreement in the Middle East war.

Today's birthday: Television personality Johnny Carson is 49 years old.

Thought for today: A man who has never made a woman angry is a failure in life — Christopher Morley, American writer, 1890-1957.

An old landmark near Ringgold was destroyed by fire. The nine-room frame house on the Charles Dresbach farm burned in the morning blaze. It was located just inside the Fairfield County Line, a half mile south of Cedar Hill.

Circleville Municipal Court collected $3,295 in fines during the month of September and $250 in parking violation money.

The Circleville reserve football team won their sixth straight game, a 26-7 win over Wilmington. The defensive squad was led by Fred Sines, Jim Marshall, Bob McClure, Bill Camp, Ed Hart, Rod Shasteen, and Larry Lemley.

A television station apparently started a false rumor that Ted Lewis planned to attend the Pumpkin Show.

Unemployment Tax Cut Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Employment services says unemployment compensation taxes on Ohio employers will be reduced Jan. 1.

William E. Gurnes said the tax will drop two-tenths per cent. The lower tax rate results from the formula in state law, which bases the tax on the amount of money in the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund. Gurnes said there is more than $783 million in the trust fund.

"That's the trouble with a desk job. The pants wear out before the coat."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My father is heading for a broken hip. He is careless, he hurries and pays no attention to safety. He is 77 years old.

I recall a column you once wrote on this subject. Perhaps rereading it would impress him with the need for greater caution.

Mrs. G.B., Ind.

Dear Mrs. B.:

Dr. Carter Rowe, of the Harvard Medical School, wrote a pledge which, he insisted, should be signed by every elderly adult.

The pledge was based on the fact that fractured hips and fractured bones cause the elderly long and protracted months of pain and inactivity.

In most cases, carelessness is the basis for the injury. As one grows older, bones become more brittle and more fragile, and are more easily broken by simple accidents and falls.

The pledge: "I hereby promise my children and grandchildren to stop hurrying.

"I will not rush to the door or the telephone.

"I will pause a moment when I stand

By JIM BISHOP

The era of the great ocean liner expired last month when the "France," a fifth of a mile long, was retired from service. The "QE II" and a few others are still out there, but they attract mainly young honeymooners, who stand at a rail watching the bright bands of a sunrise, and elderly couples who recline in deck chairs, waiting for golden sunsets.

The swift silver birds have killed the ocean liners. The survivors ply the Caribbean out of Port Everglades and Miami. I write this obituary with a heavy heart, because I have been a sailor all my life.

At the age of 12, my mother indulged me to take a ferry to New York. My uncle, Jack Regan, was a cabinet-maker on the Cunard Line piers and he got me aboard the "Berengaria," the "Aquitania," the "Mauretania," the "Carmania" and dozens of other palatial liners.

Each ship had a personality. It was more than a huge hull with intricate wood panelling and sumptuous public rooms. It was a living thing. Some could accept the high seas and North Atlantic gales with equanimity and arrive on time.

Others, like the "Berengaria," flinched in high seas. The old "Olympic" of the White Star Line was the sister of the "Titanic." Coming up over the horizon at Ambrose Light, she had more majesty and less courage than any ship I knew.

The best, of course, was the "Mauretania," the old "Mauretania." The designers, I suspect, wanted a gigantic yacht with four funnels. They had her and her sister, the "Lusitania," ready for sea trials in the Irish Sea in 1907.

The "Lusitania" was sunk by a U-boat off Old Kinsale Head in 1915. Her foreward holds were loaded with British ammunition, undeclared on the manifest when she left New York. When the torpedo hit, the U-boat captain, staring through his periscope, couldn't believe the size of the explosion. The whole side of the starboard forepeak blew out; the ship sank in 18 minutes, and 1,200 passengers drowned in sight of land.

The "Mauretania" grew old in service, but she became more beautiful with age. She flew the Blue Riband as the fastest liner in the North Atlantic from 1907 until 1929. Head up to the swells, she could maintain 27 knots day and night.

Her captain, Commodore Rostron, a small Scot, used to follow me around her in port, asking why I never tired of touching her rails, her Steinway piano, or the lofty view of West Street from her bridge.

up. "I will be sure of my footing. "I will think before I act." Add to this pledge the good sense of using a skidless cane, especially in bad weather.

Then attach this pledge to a mirror or a wall so that it can be read often.

Most fractures of the hip occur within the questionable safety of the home. You can help your father by being sure that there is excellent lighting in the home. A night light in the bathroom will avoid many fractured hips.

Scatter rugs are a source of potential danger unless they are anchored to the floor.

Highly waxed kitchen and bathroom floors are attractive but hazardous.

Stairwells are dangerous. An added rail along the wall is an excellent investment in safety.

The toys of grandchildren, haphazardly scattered about the room, are a threat to the safety of visiting grandparents.

Anticipation is the key to the prevention of accidents.

It was love, but I didn't know how to say it. She didn't love me; she didn't know me; I never sailed her. I was just a fresh kid dreaming. Once, when she picked a pilot up at Ambrose, he called for, "Slow all engines." He should have called, "Dead Slow—harbor speed."

Instead of four knots, she was easing along at eight. It was summer. Her size and grace magnetized bathers at Coney Island. Her wake turned a six-foot wave from her razor bows. It drowned 12 swimmers.

When I became older, I visited more ships. Nothing was as romantic as the midnight sailing of the North German Lloyd liner "Europa." Her deep "cast off" blast mingled with the German lullaby songs of the ship's band. Out in the river, she was an elegant city of lights.

The "Conti Di Savoia" of the Italian Line was the first to use stabilizers in rough seas. Later, I sailed on ships such as the "Constitution," the "Independence," "Ivernia," the "Julio Cesare," "Angelina Lauro," "Santa Paula," "Santa Rosa," etc. I admired each one for herself.

A ship is aging at 20, old at 30. In 1936, the Cunard Line had painted the "Mauretania" white and ran her on winter cruises to the south. She was 29 years old, loafing at two-thirds speed through clear green waters, listening to the shouts of the drunks, the whippers of high-speed shipboard romances, the babbling crush to debark at every port.

It was demeaning work for a lady. So Cunard sent her to the shipbreakers. As she left New York, a man in Washington, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, sat at his desk and wrote a paean of poetic praise to a dying queen.

At dockside in Great Britain, the big funeral cranes bent in prayer over her rakish funnels. Thousands of protests arrived. Old seafarers wanted a final opportunity to buy a life ring, a spoke from the helmsman's wheel, a dining room chair.

Cunard was surprised at such sentimentality. I wasn't . . .

City Board To Discuss Meet Change

Among the topics to be presented by the superintendent at Thursday's meeting of the Circleville Board of Education is the resignation of a staff member due to pregnancy and the changing of the November and December board meetings.

Three staff members have also applied for approval to attend professional meetings and one teacher has asked to be added to the list of approved substitutes.

Under finances, Superintendent Fritz Jacobs will present his recommendations for investments. On the agenda are also items calling for additional blacktopping at the South Court Elementary Building, renewal of Blanket Bond for the employees, approval of a trucking service agreement and approval of membership in the county media center.

The board is also reminded of the open house at the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational Center on Nov. 17.

A final item to be presented at the regular monthly meeting is the policy revision concerning student record forms.

Food Jumps In Price Across Ohio

CHICAGO (AP) — Food prices jumped 2 per cent in Cleveland during September and 1.3 per cent in Cincinnati, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics has reported.

The bureau said the food price index hit 165.9 in Cleveland and 167.2 in Cincinnati. That means that $100 worth of food bought in 1967, the base period, now would cost $165.90 in Cleveland and $167.20 in Cincinnati.

Increases for the year were 11.3 per cent in Cincinnati and 10.5 per cent in Cleveland.

The bureau said dairy products were the only foods showing a price decline during the month, dropping 0.2 per cent in Cincinnati and 0.7 per cent in Cleveland. But even with the drops, the bureau said, dairy product prices in Cincinnati were 19.2 per cent above a year ago and were 16.6 per cent above the price last year in Cleveland.

Meat, poultry and fish prices showed an increase from a month ago, but a drop from a year ago, the bureau said.

Cleveland showed a 3.4 per cent increase last month, but a 11.8 per cent drop from last year, while Cincinnati showed a 2.1 per cent increase during the month but a 8.5 per cent drop from prices a year ago.

Cincinnati and Cleveland were the only two Ohio cities for which figures were available.

BALLOT LANGUAGE, EXPLANATIONS, AND RESOLUTIONS FOR PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE OHIO CONSTITUTION TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE VOTERS AT THE GENERAL ELECTION, NOVEMBER 5, 1974

Article XII, Section 2
TO PERMIT LAWS REDUCING REAL ESTATE TAXES ON THE HOMESTEADS OF PERMANENTLY AND TOTALLY DISABLED RESIDENTS.
If adopted, the amendment shall take effect January 1, 1975.
(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly)
A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 1

The Ohio Constitution presently provides that land and improvements thereon must be taxed by uniform rule according to value. The only current exception to this requirement is the 1970 amendment which permits the General Assembly to provide in the tax laws for a reduced tax for residents 65 years of age and older by providing for a reduction in the value of the homestead of such persons.

Issue No. 1, if passed, would create a second exception to the uniform tax rule by permitting the General Assembly to reduce the homestead value in the case of PERMANENTLY AND TOTALLY DISABLED PERSONS, thereby reducing their taxes.

2 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
TO REPEAL SECTION 12 OF ARTICLE VIII OF THE OHIO CONSTITUTION WHICH REQUIRES THE GOVERNOR TO APPOINT A SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC WORKS FOR A ONE-YEAR TERM.
(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly)
A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 2

Article VIII, section 12 of the Ohio Constitution requires the Governor to appoint a superintendent of public works for a one year term.

Due to an enactment of the 110th General Assembly creating the Department of Administrative Services, the duties of the Department of Public Works were included, as were those of the Departments of Finance and State Personnel, in this new department. As such, there is no longer a Department of Public Works, and its duties and functions are now lodged with the Director of Administrative Services, who, under the provisions of law, is appointed by the Governor to serve at his pleasure with the advice and consent of the Senate.

ISSUE 1

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend section 2 of Article XII of the Constitution of the state of Ohio to provide that laws may be passed reducing taxes by providing for a reduction in value of the homestead for totally disabled residents.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1974, a proposal to amend section 2 of Article XII of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

ARTICLE XII

Section 2. No property, taxed according to value, shall be so taxed in excess of one per cent of its true value in money for all state and local purposes, but laws may be passed authorizing additional taxes to be levied outside of such limitation, either when approved by at least a majority of the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1974, a proposal to amend section 2 of Article XII of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

Section 2. No property, taxed according to value, shall be so taxed in excess of one per cent of its true value in money for all state and local purposes, but laws may be passed authorizing additional taxes to be levied outside of such limitation, either when approved by at least a majority of the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1974, a proposal to amend section 2 of Article XII of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

ISSUE 2
(Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 26)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to repeal section 12 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, requiring a superintendent of public works to be appointed by the Governor for a one-year term.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1974, a proposal to amend the Constitution of the State of Ohio by repealing section 12 of Article VIII thereof.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL
If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect, and existing section 12 of Article VIII shall be repealed from such effective date.

ISSUE 3
(Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 22)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend section 13 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, to expand the purposes for which public industrial development revenue bonds may be issued to include preservation of existing jobs and

3 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
Article VIII, Section 13
TO INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING AMONG THE PURPOSES FOR WHICH PUBLIC INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT REVENUE BONDS MAY BE ISSUED AND LOAN GUARANTEE PROGRAMS UNDERTAKEN, WITHOUT OBLIGATION AND IMPAIRMENT OF MONIES RAISED BY TAXATION:

1. THE PRESERVATION OF EXISTING JOBS.
2. THE CONTROL OF AIR, WATER AND THERMAL POLLUTION.
3. THE DISPOSAL OF SOLID WASTE, AND
4. THE CONSTRUCTION OF ELECTRIC AND GAS UTILITY SERVICE FACILITIES FOR POLLUTION CONTROL OR SOLID WASTE DISPOSAL.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly)
A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 3

Article VIII, section 13 of the Ohio Constitution currently permits public industrial development revenue bonds and loan guarantee financing of facilities for industry, commerce, distribution and research, to create jobs and employment opportunities and improve the economic welfare of the people of the state. Such financing is done through issuance of revenue bonds or guarantees of loans, with moneys for repayment coming from the operation of the facilities. Moneys raised by taxation may not be obligated or pledged for payment of the bonds or guarantees. That restriction would be retained in this amendment.

The amendment would add the preservation of existing jobs to the creation of jobs as a proper purpose of such financing and would also add the control of air, water, and thermal pollution and the disposal of solid waste as separate objectives for such bonds or loan guarantees.

The present section forbids facilities to be constructed through such financing "for the purpose of providing electric or gas utility service to the public." The amendment would make an exception to this for pollution control and solid waste disposal facilities, so that they would be financed through utility rates, which will provide the moneys to pay off the financing without in any way obligating or pledging any moneys raised by taxation.

the use of the section for facilities for electric or gas utility service to the extent that such facilities are constructed for pollution control or solid waste disposal and to remove obsolete language.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1974, a proposal to amend the Constitution of the State of Ohio by amending section 13 of Article VIII thereof to read as follows:

ARTICLE VIII

Section 13. To create or preserve jobs and employment opportunities, to improve the economic welfare of the people of the state, to control air, water, and thermal pollution, or to dispose of solid waste, it is hereby determined to be in the public interest and a proper public purpose for the state or its political subdivisions, taxing districts, or public authorities, or their agencies or instrumentalities, or corporations not for profit designated by any of them as such agencies or instrumentalities, to acquire, construct, enlarge, improve, or equip, and to sell, lease, exchange, or otherwise dispose of property, structures, equipment, and facilities within the State of Ohio for industry, commerce, distribution, and research, to make or guarantee loans and to borrow money and issue bonds or other obligations to provide moneys for the acquisition, construction, enlargement, improvement, or equipment, of such property, structures, equipment and facilities. Laws may be passed to carry into effect such purposes and to authorize for such purposes the borrowing of money by, and the issuance of bonds or other obligations of the state or its political subdivisions, taxing districts, or public authorities, its or their agencies or instrumentalities, or corporations not for profit designated by any of them as such agencies or instrumentalities, and to authorize the making of guarantees and loans and the lending of aid and credit, which laws, bonds, obligations, loans, guarantees, and lending of aid and credit shall not be subject to the requirements, limitations, or prohibitions of any other section of Article VIII, or of Article XII, Sections 6 and 11, of the Constitution, provided that moneys raised by taxation shall not be obligated or pledged for the payment of bonds or other obligations issued or guaranteed made pursuant to laws enacted under this section.

Except for facilities for pollution control or solid waste disposal, as determined by law, no guarantees or loans and no lending of aid or credit shall be made under the laws enacted pursuant to this section of the Constitution for facilities to be constructed for the purpose of providing electric or gas utility service to the public.

The powers herein granted shall be in addition to and not in diminution of existing powers of the state or its political subdivisions, taxing districts, or public authorities, or their agencies or instrumentalities or corporations not for profit designated by any of them as such agencies or instrumentalities.

Any corporation organized under the laws of Ohio is hereby authorized to lend or contribute moneys to the state or its political subdivisions or agencies or instrumentalities thereof on such terms as may be agreed upon in furtherance of laws enacted pursuant to this section.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL
If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect, and existing section 13 of Article VIII shall be repealed from such effective date.

Pickaway Plains DAR October Program Theme Is 'American Heritage'

Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of The American Revolution met for its October meeting at First English Lutheran Church, in Ashville.

The regent, Mrs. Henry Bartholomew opened the meeting in ritualistic form, assisted by the chaplain, Mrs. Emerson Spicer. Mrs. Christian Schwartz, chairman of the Flag of the United States of America, led the salute. One verse of "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung accompanied by the pianist, Mrs. Martin Crowley.

Mrs. Charles Beckman read the letter from the President general Mrs. Henry S. Jones, who reminded members of the National Society celebration of its 84th birthday this month. The bylaws, "To cherish, maintain and extend the institutions of American freedom" is a continuing responsibility and goal. America is to face the future bravely and with confidence; now is the time to breathe new life into the moral and spiritual and constitutional values which made this country great and on which our freedoms are based.

Mrs. Austin Dowden, the national defense chairman used excerpts from a document prepared by Ohio Representative John M. Ashbrook, titled "Soviet Military Might: Western Made" which was printed in the May 1973 issue of The D.A.R. Magazine.

Mrs. Robert Bales, chairman of the heritage committee, introduced Mrs. Carl Steinhauser, who presented a very interesting paper on "Currier And Ives".

She said historians have always taken history too seriously. With the distressing faithfulness of unimaginative bookkeepers they have set down names, dates, and places. They have seen life as a parade of wooden soldiers.

Mr. Corrier and Mr. Ives, were, without even suspecting it, America's preeminent romanticists. They left us a pictorial record of their times inestimably more valuable as Americana than all the archives that have been gathered dust since 1492.

In the early 19th century when pictures in books and magazines were reproduced by a relatively slow process, from cooperplate, engravings, and woodcuts or some other similar method, engineers and publishers in Europe and America were beginning to experiment with a new method called lithography.

The first American firm to make a commercial success of lithography was William S. and John Pendleton of Boston. Establishing their business in 1824 the Pendletons brought from France a man named Dubois who was the first true lithographic pressman in America. The business grew to a point where it was necessary to hire an apprentice. The job was given to a 15 year old boy named Nathaniel Currier.

This Nathaniel Currier had an early start in an infant business and he was quick to master its intricacies and to realize its potentialities.

After five years Mr. Currier went to New York and established his own business. His shop was a favorite resort of many prominent men, among them were Henry Ward Beecher, Horace Greeley and B. T. Barnum. Currier had a summer home in Amesbury, Mass. and there he was often visited by John Greenleaf Whittier. He liked horses and kept a number of them. The well-known print "The Road - Summer" was a portrait of his brother driving one of his horses.

In that first year of his business independence New York was swept by a fire. It was unfortunate for New York, for 13 acres of the city's finest property went the way of all smoke. But it was fortunate for Mr. Currier.

Four days later, while the embers were still cooling, Mr. Currier offered for sale a lithograph called "Ruins Of The Merchants Exchange - New York." Any metropolitan newspaper could do the same in an hour today. A hundred years ago it was very different. The dazzling speed of Mr. Currier's presses was something of a sensation. Thousands of prints were sold and Mr. Currier's local reputation had been established.

For several years he went on making prints of whatever he thought would interest New Yorkers. And then on a bitter January night in 1840 the steamship Lexington caught fire in Long Island Sound. More than 100 lives were lost. Three days later Mr. Currier was ready with a picture of the burning ship, together with 7 columns of detailed description of the disaster. This time there was such a demand that he had to keep his presses running night and day. This interest of course was not purely local. Other cities sent for copies and Mr. Currier himself wrapped and tied the bundles and sent them away. And when those busy days came to an end, Mr. Currier had a national reputation.

For many years Nathaniel Currier had his brother Charles as a business associate. In an advertisement in the New York's city directory of 1862 he describes himself as Charles Currier, lithographer. Portraits, views, cities, town buildings, music titles executed in the first style of the art, also manufacturers of lithographic crayons superior to any other.

Besides his invention of the superior lithographic crayons, Charles made another invaluable contribution to his brother's firm. His wife's sister had married a young bookkeeper, art lover and lithographer whom Charles had recommended to Nathaniel for a position. In 1852 the young man was hired as a bookkeeper. He fitted so well into the rapidly expanding firm that five years later, he was made a partner. His name was James Merritt Ives.

He learned lithography and after entering Curriers' employ occasionally worked on a stone himself. His work on the 4th plate of the delightful series "The Four Seasons Of Life" reveals his skilled draftsmanship.

They never lost sight of the news angle of their publications however. The great fires in Boston, New York, Chicago, the burning of ships, horse races or any other event which the public became interested in became subjects for the lithographer's crayon. In one notable case the firm anticipated the news. A print showing the first Continental Train "Across The Continent" was published in 1868. The last spike was not driven until 1869.

In any analysis of the popularity of Currier and Ives prints when they were published, color stands out as an important factor. There was such little color in the furnishings of the average home. Even the titles of the prints contributed to their popularity. Among their favorite key words were the great, celebrated, grand. The word American was the leading word in well over 100 titles. Another magic word was home when the two were combined as in the "American Homestead" series. It had irresistible appeal which accounts for the large number sold. The sub titles on the "Four Seasons Of Life" are particularly felicitous.

There was a great demand for some of the prints and occasionally the stones became chipped. If that stone was not replaced, such a print is a scarce item today. This could be the reason behind the fact that there are but a few known copies of that colorful and dramatic print "The Life Of A Hunter - A Tight Fix." Scarcity is the factor that accounts for its valuation of between 2 or 4 thousand dollars.

A favorite of Currier and Ives artist for many collectors is George Durrie. Currier and Ives reproduced comparatively few of his paintings, only a dozen or so in all, but his work had such truly American character that the few prints which were produced are among the most valued of the entire gallery. His paintings as a group form one of the best records of the old days on the farm, a way of life that is fast vanishing. Among the prints "The Old Homestead In Winter," "Winter In The Country" and others all have the same rural beauty and homeliness. Durrie's "Home To Thanksgiving" which is a handsome piece of work, typically American, is perhaps the most widely known Currier and Ives print in this country today. It is regretted that his original painting for the print has never been found.

Following the history of Currier and Ives, Mrs. James Price and Miss Wilmine Haecker, acting as pages, brought each picture of the exhibit to the front of the room, while the owner sometimes offered a comment.

Exhibitors and pictures were: "Grandpa's Ride," made in 1850, Mrs. Walter Kindler; "The Banquet Of Roses," Mrs. John Noecker; "Happy Age," "Sunday In Olden Times," "Kittens And The Roses" and "The Little White Kitten," Mrs. Charles Pugsley; "American Homestead Spring," "American Homestead Autumn" and "Landscape Fruit And Flowers," Mrs. Carl Steinhauser; "The Fruit Vase" dated 1857, "The Young Housekeepers," dated 1847 and "Nancy," Mrs. Robert Bales.

City Health Department Advises Furnace Checkup

If you are turning your heating unit on for the first time this winter, hold it!

A colorless, odorless, tasteless poison already responsible for several deaths this year, may be lurking in your heating equipment.

This life-threatening poison is carbon monoxide, a gas produced by the incomplete burning of any solid, liquid, or gaseous fuel.

"Any furnace, stove, or heating unit is capable of producing deadly carbon monoxide gas at any moment, if complete fuel burning is not taking place," Bob Kramer of Circleville City Health Dept. recently stated. "Everyone in our community must become more aware of the dangers and causes of carbon monoxide poisoning."

Each year this poison takes the lives of more than 100 Ohioans at home, while camping or in the automobile.

Canned Tuna Has Extra Ingredients

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP) — Rat hairs and fly maggots are among the extra ingredients Consumers Union says it found when it took a close look at some canned tuna.

An article in the November issue of its magazine, Consumer Reports, said that after testing 104 samples of 52 brands, the problem "appeared industrywide."

Of the 16 distributors whose brands were tested, 13 had at least one contaminated sample, according to the nonprofit agency.

The magazine said one tuna sample contained part of a fly maggot. In two other cases, examiners found rat hairs three-fifths of an inch long. It said that was too long to have come from ground spices.

"The FDA's usual excuse for its lax standards on filth in food is that the filth originated in nature and couldn't be readily removed," the article said. "Well rats don't live in or around tuna fish in the ocean. A likely explanation for their presence is direct contact between fish and rat."

Noting that tuna is an excellent and economical protein source, the magazine added:

"Although the filth we found is more likely to ruin your appetite than your health, we think the tuna industry badly needs a cleanup."

NOTICE OF ELECTION ON TAX LEVY IN EXCESS OF THE TEN MILL LIMITATION

NOTICE is hereby given that in pursuance of a Resolution of the Township Trustees of the Township of Darby, Ohio, passed on the 15th day of July, 1974, there will be submitted to a vote of the people of said Darby Township at a General Election to be held in the Township of Darby, Ohio, at the regular places of voting therein, on Tuesday, the 5th day of November, 1974, the question of levying, in excess of the ten mill limitation, for the benefit of Darby Township for the purpose of providing protection against fire and to maintain fire apparatus, appliances and buildings.

Demos Hope For Big Turnout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If they get big turnouts in traditionally strong Democratic areas, party strategists believe 1974 will be a big year for Democrats in Ohio.

"Our whole thing is to identify our strength and deliver that strength on election day," said Eugene "Pete" O'Grady, campaign manager for Gov. John J. Gilligan.

The major Democratic strongholds are not difficult to identify. They are the highly-unionized, northern industrial areas — Toledo in the northwest and most of the northeastern corner of the state.

The Democratic strategy is simple — bring out the voters in droves in these districts and work hard to win votes in what they consider to be safe independent areas.

But, getting out the vote may prove a formidable task in a year marked by widespread voter disillusionment and apathy. Some political analysts think the Watergate scandal will hurt both parties, with large numbers of voters staying home Nov. 5.

Even with a national hero as an overwhelming favorite in the U.S. Senate race and with an incumbent governor, Democratic insiders are hesitant to predict any landslide.

Not so O'Grady, a former Democratic state chairman. Sitting in his cluttered campaign office in downtown Columbus, O'Grady said flatly: "I'll predict that the Democratic ticket will be elected from top to bottom."

That will take some doing, most observers figure.

Even assuming victories for all Democratic incumbents, state Rep. Richard Celeste has a tough fight with incumbent Lt. Gov. John W. Brown and state Sen. Tony P. Hall appears to be a decided underdog against Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

O'Grady is encouraged by an independent poll. During the last week of September he showed John Glenn leading Republican Ralph Perk by an astronomical 50 points in the Senate race and Gilligan ahead of former Gov. James A. Rhodes by 11 points. The poll had 16 per cent of the vote undecided in the gubernatorial contest.

A Republican poll reportedly showed Rhodes to be only a few points behind.

O'Grady thinks Gilligan will do better in his home town of Cincinnati after losing Hamilton County in 1970 and claims there is a "surprising interest in Democrats this year in traditionally-Republican small counties."

"Within the last three weeks, everything has come together," O'Grady said in mid-October.

Gilligan's 53 per cent plus victory in 1970 over former state Auditor Roger Cloud pinpointed the Democratic strongholds. Gilligan captured only 34 counties to Cloud's 54, but he piled up big margins in densely populated areas like Lucas, Cuyahoga, Summit and Mahoning counties, reflecting an edge for Democrats in registered voters in the state.

Gilligan defeated Cloud in all of the counties in the northeastern corner and did well along Ohio's eastern border in Columbiana and Jefferson and on southward to Belmont and Monroe counties.

Then, there is little Pike County surrounded by generally GOP areas in south-central Ohio. Pike gave Gilligan a 1,163-vote margin out of fewer than 1,700 votes cast in 1970. Party officials point out the county has been voting Democratic since Civil War days.

Democratic strength in the state was badly shaken by Sen. George McGovern's ill-fated 1972 presidential campaign.

Only Lucas and Athens counties gave McGovern the edge, the latter due largely to the student vote at Ohio University. Even Youngstown, rock-ribbed Democratic country, went for former President Nixon by 1,700 votes.

Democratic campaign officials do not appear worried that Gilligan will lose any traditionally-safe areas this year. The governor's people have not had the problems that McGovern's staff had in working with local party officials.

Nor are internal problems on the local level expected to harm the statewide ticket. Although Democratic factionalism has contributed to two election victories for GOP Mayor Ralph J. Perk in Cleveland, Gilligan won Cuyahoga County by 67 per cent four years ago.

"We expect him to repeat that margin of victory," said one state party official.

There is no apparent complacency in the Democratic camp, due in part to fears over a low turnout and published reports that Rhodes is gaining ground.

"It all depends on the turnout," a party spokesman said.

World's Largest Quarter Horse Show Under Way

The world's largest horse show, the All-American Quarter Horse Congress, is underway in Columbus at the Ohio State Exposition Center.

Dr. Paul Teegardin, Dunkle Road, is a director of the Ohio Quarter Horse Assn. Showing at the event will be Steve Fullen of near Atlanta, with I'm A Lou Lou, the unofficial high point horse in the yearling filly halter class and the unofficial reserve champion in all ages. With the Ohio Show circuit over, I'm A Lou Lou has accumulated enough points to win, but standings do not become official until later in the year.

Fullen will be showing I'm A Lou Lou Sunday at Columbus in the yearling halter class and Saturday in the get of sire class along with Hillcreek's Hi Skip, the unofficial reserve yearling stallion in Ohio. Fullen owns and trains I'm A Lou Lou while Hillcreek's Hi Skip is owned by Dr. Richard Beckman of Mt. Sterling.

An expected 5,500 entrants in the show will be showing some 3,500 horses to an estimated 22,000 people at the show. It goes on from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. through Oct. 29.

The Quarter Horse has become the largest breed of horses in the world. This versatile animal will perform in anything from cattle cutting to bridge path hack, to racing, barrel racing and hunter over fences.

Alleged Kidnapers Files Bid

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A Winter Park, Fla., man accused of kidnaping says his civil rights are being violated and has asked a court to rescind an order forcing him to turn over evidence.

A new attorney for Clifford J. Kroger, 38, a civil engineer, filed the motion in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court asking Judge William S. Morrissey to rescind an order that would make Kroger provide blood, hair and handwriting samples to the prosecution.

Kroger waived extradition in Florida and was returned here to face charges in the Sept. 23 kidnaping of 4-year-old Allison Mechem, daughter of broadcast executive Charles Mechem. The little girl was found unharmed in a motel, and the $128,000 ransom was recovered untouched by the kidnapers, police said.

Kroger's attorney, Bernard Gilday, Tuesday contended that Morrissey's order violated Kroger's rights. The order is tantamount to compelling the defendant to be a witness against himself, Gilday said.

Morrissey said Oct. 10 when he issued the order that the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that blood can be taken from a suspect, forcibly if necessary. Kroger remains in jail in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Expense Reports Changed By Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Congressional candidates no longer must file campaign expense reports under state law, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Tuesday.

President Ford signed the Federal Election Campaign Act Amendments of 1974 which provides that "all state and local law relating to registration, reporting and disclosure requirements for federal elections are pre-empted and superceded by federal law immediately upon enactment of this legislation," Brown said.

Congressional candidates must still file the federal reports with the secretary of state.

Coal Stockpiling Urged By Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Energy Advisory Council has advised the state government to stockpile coal before a possible miners' strike Nov. 12.

It also recommended Tuesday to its parent Ohio Energy Commission that the state suggest the same thing to hospitals and other facilities considered in the emergency category.

The 18-member council didn't put it in writing, but it also discussed two ways the state could speed up pre-strike deliveries of coal.

They were:
—Lift regulations that restrict coal trucks to handle no more than 78,000 pounds each load when they are capable of carrying 120,000 pounds.

—Lift the time-consuming bidding requirement on state purchases of coal.

Donald Colosimo, chief contingency planner for the five-member commission, said another problem to be faced in an emergency is how to take coal from one firm and give it to another.

"During a strike, all we can do is take from somebody who is a little more effective on stockpiling and give it to someone who is less effective," Colosimo said.

Members of the council agreed, but didn't put it in the resolution, that the best approach in those cases would be to require the borrower to pay back the coal to the lender, regardless of any change in price.

Colosimo said the state is now paying $60 a ton for coal it bought a year ago for $18. There is also a shortage of coal cars and trucks required to get the coal from the mines, he said.

A coal operator on the council, Richard Rouse of Consolidation Coal Co., said his firm was selling coal at the mine for $23 but the customer had to pay for hauling it away. Most of the supply, he said, is earmarked for regular clients.

The council set its next meeting for Nov. 19.

Authorities said an autopsy was planned today.

Court Says Let 'Em Dance

KATWIJK, The Netherlands (AP)—The city council of the seaside resort of Katwijk is being forced by court order to grant a permit allowing a dance hall to operate on Sunday.

The council had refused the permit, claiming Sunday dancing would not be acceptable to the majority of the town's population.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

"T" Stands For Trouble

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married next month and was very happy about it until last night, when Ted and I had a long talk.

He told me not to expect him to stay faithful to me all our married life because all married men go out on their wives sooner or later and he doesn't think he is going to be any different.

Abby, I love Ted very much, and I don't think I could stand it if I knew he cheated on me.

What should I do?

IN LOVE

DEAR IN: Tell Ted that in this age of the liberated woman, all married women go out on their husbands sooner or later; and since you feel a part of the new sisterhood, the arrangement he proposes is at least negotiable. (In any event, the "T" in Ted stands for trouble.)

DEAR ABBY: I was told that years ago, if a man didn't want to be drafted in the U.S. Army, he could PAY someone to substitute for him. I know it sounds like a dumb question, but I can't find the answer anywhere. Can you help me?

INQUISITIVE

DEAR INK: It is not a "dumb" question. And it WAS true, but no longer is.

By the terms of the Conscription Act of 1863, a man eligible for the draft could avoid service by providing a substitute, or paying a commutation of $300.

One-time President Grover Cleveland paid a substitute $150 to serve for him in the Civil War. (Cleveland had two brothers in the U.S. Army and a mother and two sisters to support at the time.)

DEAR ABBY: My father-in-law died six months ago and since his death, my mother-in-law has practically lived with us.

She comes over every night for supper and sits all evening. It's not that she stays so long, but I work, and frankly, I would like to be able to come home and just relax.

She has always been very critical of anyone who doesn't keep a spotless house, and although I'm a fairly good housekeeper, I feel she will criticize me. It's gotten to the point where I hate to go home after work because I know she will be there. She's a nice person, and I get along with her, but I need time to be alone.

She spends every weekend here, and I can't accomplish anything because she is always looking over my shoulder.

She's well enough to go everywhere we go. She went on our vacation with us, and if she wants to go next year, I'd just as soon stay home.

I hate to be a stinker, and I wouldn't want to shut her out completely, but this is too much.

My husband is unfortunately her only "child" and she doesn't get along with the other relatives. Help!

SUFFOCATING IN VA

DEAR SUFF: Your problem is not your mother-in-law, it's the lack of communication with your husband. Your objections seem reasonable enough to me.

Have a heart-to-heart talk with hubby, and let him know how you feel.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A. Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Grid Picker Sees OSU Over Northwestern

NEW YORK (AP) — "We expect another team to try and beat us, but we're not going to let it happen."

So says Ohio State's Woody Hayes as the 6-0 Buckeyes get ready to defend their No. 1 ranking against 1-5 Northwestern.

"Only way to avoid it is preparation," adds Hayes. "We'll be ready. We do want to keep all four backs running."

The four main backs are tailback Archie Griffin, who's averaging 6.9 yards a carry, quarterback Cornelius

Greene at 6.3, fullback Champ Henson at 5.0 and wingback Brian Baschnagel at an astonishing 13.1. Those averages have remained pretty much the same for the last few weeks and Hayes, believe it or not, isn't happy about it.

"We've had offensive consistency around 73 per cent for three straight weeks," he said. "The reason we're not getting better is using other players so much."

The number will stay around the 73 per cent level again as the Buckeyes use a lot of players in beating Northwestern ... 56-7.

Last week's score was 45 right, 17 wrong and two ties for .726, bringing the season's scoreboard to 279-108-12-721. All three Upset Specials went down the drain, however, although West Virginia came within seconds of beating Miami, Fla., before losing by a point.

Oklahoma 56, Kansas State 7: If that's a good score for Ohio State, why not for Oklahoma?

Michigan 35, Minnesota 14: For the Little Brown Jug Minnesota gets juggled and mugged.

Alabama 42, Texas Christian 7: TCU won't stop 'Bama, even though the Horned Frogs have won all three previous meetings with the Tide.

Auburn 20, Florida State 7: Auburn has never lost to FSU and there's no reason to start now.

Southern California 34, Oregon State 7: USC's passing game might not be as good as it should be, but the ground game, led by Anthony Davis, is no problem.

Notre Dame 14, Miami, Fla. 7: Hurricanes come on strong to avenge last year's 44-0 shellacking, but not strong enough.

Upset Special of the Week ... Baylor 21, Texas A&M 20. You know the times are changin' when the winner of this one is still unbeaten in Southwest Conference play.

Second Upset Special ... Georgia Tech 24, Tulane 21: Yellow Jackets are unbeaten at home since the Notre Dame opener.

Third Upset Special ... Princeton 24, Penn 21: A prize to anyone who can spell Snickenberg and Bellizeare.

Pigeon Club Holds 2-Year-Old Races

The Circleville Pigeon Club held its final two-year-old races of the season Oct. 19, with Bill Wood winning the 200 mile race from Corbin, Ky. with a speed of 1,174.7968 yards per minute.

After Wood took second place, Stan Crosby grabbed all the places through 8th to win the loft and bird derbies.

Crosby took first and second places in the 300 mile race, his fastest time at 1120 yards per minute. He also won the loft and bird derbies.

Homer Kuntz took 3rd, 5th, and 7th places.

Boosters Meet

The Circleville Athletic Booster Club will meet tonight in the high school cafeteria. All interested Boosters are welcome.

Bonus Upset Special ... Indiana 20, Wisconsin 15. Indiana lost by 40 to Ohio State, Wisconsin lost by 45, which means the Hoosiers are five points better. Doesn't it?

Nebraska 28, Oklahoma State 17: Cornhuskers were fit to be tied last year; this time, they're Humming ... with Dave Humm.

Penn State 31, West Virginia 14: Lions always wins this one ... or does it just seem that way?

Texas Tech 24, Southern Methodist 17: Red Raiders can't afford another SWC setback.

Florida 27, Duke 14: Unless the Gators decide to look ahead to Auburn.

Texas 35, Rice 7: Officials won't lose this one for the Owls.

Arizona State 41, New Mexico 14:

Last year it was 67-24.

Maryland 24, North Carolina State 22: This game and next week's meeting with Penn State will prove how good the Terps really are.

Arizona 35, Brigham Young 28: Wildcats are back in their league — the Western Athletic Conference — after losing their unbeaten record to Texas Tech of the Southwest Conference.

Miami of Ohio 35, Toledo 17: Redskins have allowed only 30 points all season.

Georgia 24, Kentucky 21: But it could go the other way ... and isn't that a great line?

Temple 28, Delaware 14: Good University Division team beats good College Division team ... which should really be in the University Division.

Drew And Hawks Top 76ers, 125-92

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rookie John Drew says he's shocked to be in the pro basketball ranks, which is exactly the way he's making some other people feel.

Drew poured in 41 points to lead the Atlanta Hawks to a 125-92 rout of the Philadelphia 76ers Tuesday night. He is now averaging 32.3 points per game after three National Basketball Association outings.

"Drew's having a lot of fun," said Atlanta Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons. "Maybe one day he'll wake up and realize he's in the NBA and get nervous. But I don't really think that's going to happen He's a great offensive player, and he's getting better on defense every day."

Drew, meanwhile, says he's plenty nervous.

"I'm still shocked to be up here," said Drew. "I've read about people like Tom Van Arsdale and Billy Cunningham, and now I'm playing against them. I've been nervous all day."

Atlanta jumped out to a 14-2 lead over Houston and never looked back. Dwight Jones added 24 points and Lou Hudson 23 for the Hawks. Clyde Lee led Atlanta rebounders with 21 while Drew, who is barely 20 years old, had 18.

Elsewhere in the NBA, the New York Knicks beat the Houston Rockets 110-100, the Buffalo Braves silenced the New Orleans Jazz 134-118, the Milwaukee Bucks nipped the Chicago Bulls 92-90, the Washington Bullets got past the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 123-121 and the Portland Trail Blazers edged the Golden State Warriors 107-106.

In the American Basketball Association, the San Diego Q's edged the Memphis Sounds 109-106 and the Spirits of St. Louis beat the Virginia Squires 118-112.

The Milwaukee Bucks erased a four-point deficit in the final 38 seconds to beat the Bulls. Bob Dandridge scored a pair of baskets to tie the score, then Lucius Allen stole the ball and sank a pair of free throws with two seconds left for the victory.

Bob McAdoo scored 33 points and grabbed 22 rebounds to pace Buffalo past the winless New Orleans Jazz.

Wes Unseld's basket with 13 seconds gave the Bullets their victory after Nate Archibald had tied the score with a basket with 32 seconds to go. The Kings had a last chance to tie, but Jimmy Walker missed in the closing seconds. Elvin Hayes had 35 points for the Bullets, 22 of them in the first half.

County Football Teams Hope To Improve League Records

Pickaway County's three area football teams will be looking forward to grid games Friday, when they have chances to improve their season and league records.

Teays Valley will be looking for Metro League win number three against 1-5 Grandview; Westfall will be attempting to stay in second place in the Scioto Valley Conference against Picketon; and Logan Elm will be looking for its second win against Liberty Union.

"We finally played like we're capable," said TV Coach Dick Kidwell talking about last Friday's 27-0 blanking of West Jefferson.

He was particularly impressed with his offensive unit, that controlled the tempo of the game. It was also the first shutout for the TV defense.

The turning point in an otherwise disappointing year for the Vikings was a 3-2 TV win over Marysville two weeks ago. "That gave us confidence," Kidwell said.

A win would even the Vikes overall mark at 4-4 and their Metro mark at 3-3.

Hamilton Twp. has clinched at least a tie for the title with a 5-0 mark, while Olenatangy and Dublin are 3-2. The Vikes are tied with Marysville, West Jefferson, and Franklin Heights at 2-3.

In last week's important win, Chuck Glitt connected on 10 of 17 passes for 199 yards to up his season totals to 46 of 98 completions for 738 yards.

In recording the shutout, the Vikings

held WJ to 78 yards rushing and 12 passing while intercepting four passes.

Grandview will present special problems for the Vikings, according to Kidwell.

The Bobcats play a 5-3 slant defense under new head coach Harry Hauenstein that will mean some adjustments for the TV linemen.

They have a limited offensive attack, based primarily on a passing attack. When forced to run, they like to head for the outside.

Teays Valley will be without the services of Mike Wilson, who has a cracked arm, and Lloyd Windon, who pulled some muscles in his back.

Bill Hurley will be the fullback behind Glitt and Brad Stuthard and Ron Foreman will alternate as tailbacks.

Westfall's Mustangs, fresh from a 28-14 romp over Huntington last week, saw their season mark jump to 4-3 and SVC record sky to 2-1. Undeclared Adena leads the loop.

They travel to Picketon Friday in an effort to improve upon those records.

In the Huntington clash, sophomore John Long scored four times for the Mustangs and gained 202 of his team's 288 offensive yards.

Meanwhile, the Mustang defense held Huntington to 154 yards on the ground and 40 in the air.

A win against Picketon would set-up John Glanton's team for the big game against Paint Valley Nov. 1, the final clash of the year for the Mustangs.

Walt Alston Manager Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Alston, the Los Angeles Dodgers' unflappable general, was named The Associated Press' National League Manager of the Year today.

The stoic Alston, who guided the Dodgers to the National League pennant this season for the seventh time in his 21-year big league career, won in a rout.

Alston outscored Danny Murtaugh, manager of the National League East champion Pittsburgh Pirates, 290 votes to 87. Voting by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters took place prior to the league's playoffs.

Red Schoendienst, whose St. Louis Cardinals battled Pittsburgh down to the end for the East title, finished third in the balloting with 26 votes.

Finishing behind the top three were, Danny Ozark of the Philadelphia

Phillies with six votes; Atlanta's Clyde King with three and Cincinnati's Sparky Anderson with two.

Alston took a relatively young team to the heights this year. It was his tender, loving care that made champions out of the Dodgers.

"I know that the players have enough to think about on the field, so I try not to give them too many problems in the clubhouse," says the easy-going Alston.

Known as a superb handler of men, Alston's tempered personality gave the Dodgers quiet confidence throughout the tough National League West battle with the Cincinnati Reds. In modern terminology, Alston kept the Dodger ship "rocking steady."

Once asked his philosophy, the dean of major league managers noted: "I pat most everybody on the back and kick the rare ones that need to be kicked."

Alston was born in Hamilton, Ohio, 62 years ago and once worked as a high school basketball coach and science teacher. He entered the Dodger organization with their Trenton, N.J., team and also managed at Montreal before being named the Dodger field boss for the 1954 season.

Alston signed a one-year contract that season, and uniquely has kept up the pattern throughout his glamorous career.

"One-year contracts are a matter of pride with me," Alston says. "I wouldn't want to work anywhere where I wasn't wanted."

Alston's accomplishments stamp him as one of the most successful managers of all time. Only two men have managed one team longer than Alston has. Connie Mack managed 50 years with the Philadelphia Athletics and John McGraw had 31 years with the New York Giants.

Alston has won four World Championships, a feat surpassed in the game by only three other managers. And only four managers in the history of major league baseball have won more pennants.

Bobby Bonds Traded For Bob Murcer

NEW YORK (AP) — Gabe Paul is at it again.

The president of the New York Yankees looks like everybody's grandfather, smiling and always affable. He is also always ready to make a trade.

Paul has remolded the ball club with a series of major trades, the latest one Tuesday when he swapped Bobby Murcer to the San Francisco Giants for Bobby Bonds, in an exchange of two of baseball's top outfielders.

The Bonds-Murcer swap, made on the first day of the inter-league trading period, ranks as one of the biggest one-for-one deals ever made in terms of the names involved.

The Yankees' National League rivals, the New York Mets, also made a deal Tuesday, sending reserve catcher Duffy Dyer to the Pittsburgh Pirates for outfielder Gene Cline. In the day's other trade, the Milwaukee Brewers sent second baseman John Vukovich to the Cincinnati Reds for lefthanded pitcher Pat Osburn.

Bonds and Murcer both are 28 years old, both earn more than $100,000 and both arrived in the major leagues at about the same time.

Bonds was called up to the Giants midway through the 1968 season and hit a grand slam home run in his first major league game. He set a major league record by opening 11 games with home runs in 1973.

Murcer came up for keeps in 1969 and his 140 career homers placed him 17th on the Yankees' all-time list. Bonds hit 186 for San Francisco, No. 6 on the Giants' list.

Paul Brown Looks Ahead To Oilers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Paul Brown says the Cincinnati Bengals will have to bury Sunday's "devastating" loss to Oakland and "get our chins up" for the unpredictable Houston Oilers.

"We can't look backwards," said Brown, after the Bengals, 4-2, fell out first place in the Central Division of the American Football Conference.

Brown remains convinced a 10-4 can win the division. "It did last year," he said. "I'd take a 10-4 right now and settle for it."

The Pittsburgh Steelers lead Cincinnati with a 4-1-1 record.

"I'd have to say they have the easier schedule," said Brown.

Meanwhile, the Bengals are attempting to recover from injuries which have riddled their depth chart.

Among the ailing is kicking specialist Horst Muhlmann, who has a recurring leg problem. "We may let Horst take a game or two off," said Brown.

The kicking duties would fall to Dave Green, who kicked off once during Sunday's 30-27 loss to the Raiders.

CHS Harriers Top Hamilton

Circleville cross country team defeated Hamilton Twp. 22-37 Tuesday in spite of the first place finish by Hamilton runner Dan Callie.

Callie was clocked in 10:55 for the 11 miles. Bill Massie was second in 11:13, Jeff Carter third in 11:21 and Doug Baker fourth in 11:34.

Other Circleville runners and their times were: Raymond Smith, 11:49; Dave Uland, 11:50; Randy Speakman, 12:00; Randy Swower, 12:15; Ed Brown, 12:58; Joel Baker, 13:20; Dwight Plum, 13:54.

"We got a good effort from sophomore Randy Smith, Dave Uland and Randy Speakman," CHS coach John Lawhorn reported.

Circleville runs 11 a.m. Saturday in the district at Raymond Memorial Golf Course in Columbus.

Rams Trade John Hadl To Packers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Football League played musical chairs — with quarterbacks.

By the time the game was over, four clubs had new quarterbacks.

The Los Angeles Rams had the biggest surprise Tuesday, final day for interclub trading — and got the biggest reward, five draft choices from the Green Bay Packers for John Hadl.

That's right, the Rams traded away John Hadl, the quarterback who made all pro after leading them to a 12-2 record last year. Hadl couldn't get the Los Angeles offense to move this year.

It meant that James Harris' promotion to starter is permanent. The 27-year-old black quarterback threw three touchdown passes last Sunday and got the Los Angeles offense cracking for the first time in 1974.

In the other deals involving quarterbacks, Craig Morton, the disenchanted Dallas Cowboy backup man, was sent to the New York Giants, who dealt journeyman veteran Norm Snead to the San Francisco 49ers, who then traded Joe Reed to the Detroit Lions.

Archie Manning, however, stayed with the New Orleans Saints, who apparently couldn't make the right deal for their quarterback by the 4 p.m. EDT, Tuesday trading deadline, even though he was benched last week. Manning had been on the trading block, reliable league sources reported.

In the day's other exchanges, defensive tackle Curley Culp and a 1975 No. 1 draft choice went from the Kansas City Chiefs to the Houston Oilers for defensive tackle John Matuszak and a No. 2 draft pick for 1976. Cornerback Jim Marsalis was dealt by the Chiefs to the Denver Broncos in exchange for tackle Tom Drougas and linebacker Tom Graham.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Mixed influences. In all endeavors, be selective and stress quality rather than quantity of effort. News from afar may surprise—pleasantly.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Things should start picking up for you now. However, a whole new approach to an undertaking already under way could be your best road to achievement. Postpone new ventures.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Do not let yourself be "thrown" by certain distractions. The well-developed Geminian has unusual ability to concentrate on his objectives, so put it to use NOW.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Do not try to change pre-planned activities or reverse tactics without giving others adequate notice. Careful explanation of your decisions can prevent misunderstandings.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Do not let overoptimism lead you into making dubious investments. In fact, it would be a mistake to make any drastic changes in your financial set-up at the moment.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): If extra responsibilities are thrust upon you, accept gladly those which you can reasonably handle but draw the line if anyone tries to take advantage of your good nature.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Caution urged in business negotiations. Certain factors you may have taken for granted may prove otherwise. Be especially careful where details are concerned.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): A sharp and, in some areas, unexpected surge of activity. Keep in step with events—but without anxiety.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23): Certain situations may be more complex than you realize. Avoid any involvement that could damage your prestige.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20): Morning hours favor the exchange of ideas, programming for future activities, business conferences generally. Accent is on the social after 3 p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Keep both feet on the ground now. There's a tendency to confuse the imaginatively creative with the offbeat and impractical.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Be prepared for surprises—especially in social circles. Certain odd persons or bizarre doings may raise your eyebrows. But you WILL be amused.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR is LONG FELLOW

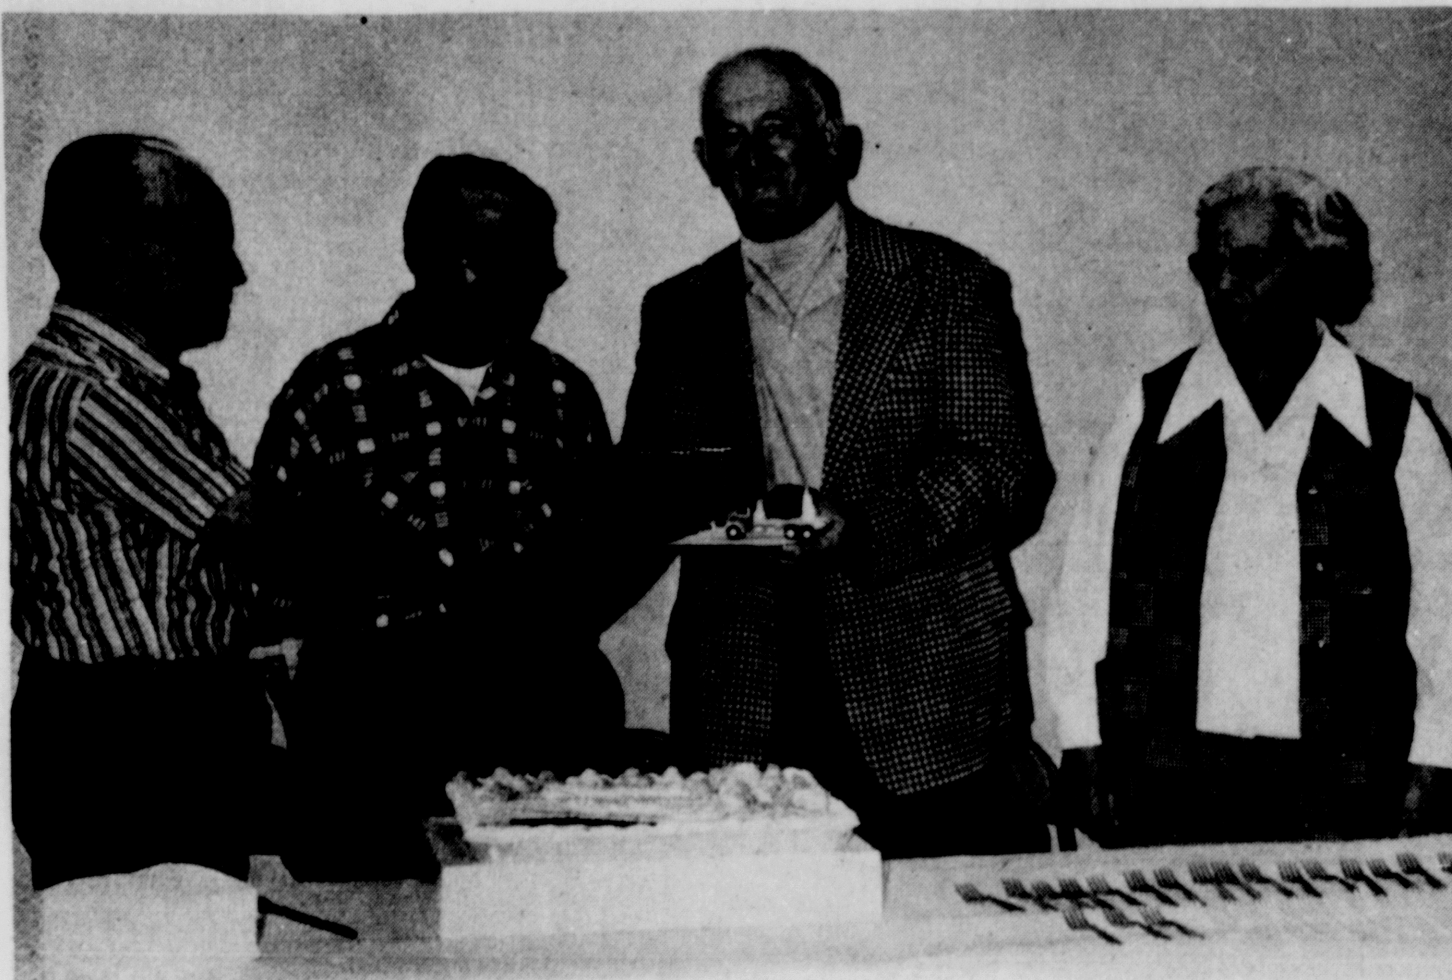

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

RETIRING—Gordon Rihl and Richard Vincent, left, congratulate Ralph E. Hartman on his retirement from the position as Bridge Superintendent of District Six of the Ohio Department of Transportation. Hartman's wife, Mary, is on the right.

Ralph E. Hartman was honored by employees of Pickaway County District Six of the Ohio Department of Transportation Tuesday at a pre-retirement party. Hartman, who has served 53 years with the state, is retiring Oct. 25 as Bridge Superintendent of District Six, which includes Pickaway, Fayette, Madison, Franklin, Union, Delaware, Marion, and Morrow Counties.

A retirement lunch will be held Friday afternoon at the Worthington Hills Country Club by the ODOT in honor of the Route 1, Amanda man who is responsible for the maintenance of all bridges in the eight-county area.

He began working for the Department of Transportation (then the Ohio Department of Highways) June 6, 1921, as a laborer at 40 cents an hour.

Hartman worked with the bridge department for 50 years, serving most of his time under his father, Grover A. Hartman, who was superintendent from 1920 to 1955.

A successor has not been named, according to Gordon Rihl, superintendent of Pickaway County highway maintenance for the ODOT.

Tarleton News

MRS. JOE JENKINS — 474-5542

The King's Helpers Class of the Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cox, on Saturday evening, at 7:30 p.m.

We wish a happy birthday to Mrs. Grace Horn of near Laurelville who will be observing her 91st birthday on Nov. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Diehl of Chillicothe were recent visitors of Mr. Diehl's sister, Mrs. Lenna Turvey.

Keith Turvey, of Tarrytown, N.Y., was the weekend guest of his mother, Mrs. Lenna Turvey, and visited other relatives in the area.

Mrs. Viola Hartranft visited on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Hulda Dean, of Circleville.

Mrs. Helen Strous and Mrs. Viola Hartranft visited Mrs. May Rhymer on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Rhymer is convalescing, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hartley, after having undergone surgery at Doctors Hospital.

It was nice to see Mrs. Hazel Hartranft, one of our senior citizens, riding in the little Miss Pumpkin Show parade, with her grandson, Roger Hartranft, and great-granddaughter, Dawn Renee Hartranft.

Recent visitors of the Richard Ballards were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hinton, Mrs. Marie Dearth and Mrs. Evelyn Kern of Chillicothe.

Mrs. Russell Jones and Mrs. Nelson Jones have returned to their homes, after being patients at Berger Hospital. Russell Jones remains a patient at Riverside Hospital, but hopes to be home in the near future.

We wish a speedy recovery to Charles Pine, who is a patient in Berger Hospital.

Mrs. James (Elizabeth) Boyer is a patient at Ross County Medical Center, having sustained a fractured hip in a fall, at Crites Rest Home, Stoutsville.

Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Letha Murray and Tessie were Mr. and Mrs. Art Murray Jr. and daughter of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Mock, Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Smith and family, Adelphi; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Murray and family, Route 4, Circleville; and Mr. and Mrs. David Owens and sons, Tarleton.

The "Forever Young" singing group of Senior Citizens will be at the St. Jacob's Lutheran Church service on Nov. 3 at 10:45 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dove, Columbus, were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. David Hartranft and family, of Route 4, Circleville.

Don't forget to set your clocks back one hour, at 2 a.m., Sunday, when the nation will go on standard time for the four winter months.

I (Toots Smith) would like to take this opportunity to thank the Tarleton Volunteer Fire Department for their assistance in helping the Auxiliary with their float during Pumpkin Show. We placed third in our category. Also, I would like to thank the girls who worked so hard in getting our float ready for the parade.

Our next project is the Halloween Parade and a bake sale to be held at the firehouse this Sunday. Our parade will be at 3 p.m. and bake sale to begin at 12 noon. The Auxiliary would appreciate all donations to make our bake sale a big success.

To give you an idea of what the auxiliary is for, we are a money making organization to help improve our fire department. I think if Salt-creek Township would take a tour of our fire department they would see a lot of improvements that could be made. The money the auxiliary makes will help make these improvements. So please give us all the support that you can. Thanks. President of Ladies Auxiliary - Toots Smith.

CARPET REMNANTS

Vets Reminded To Check Beneficiaries

Make certain the right person is beneficiary on your GI insurance policy, reminds James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer to all veterans in Pickaway County covered under the government life insurance program.

Otherwise, you may add to emotional stress of survivors when it is discovered the intended beneficiary was not named on the policy, it was explained by Shea.

In such cases, the VA is obligated by law to pay insurance proceeds to the beneficiary of record. Most of the VA's insureds are World War II veterans who carry National Service Life Insurance.

The problem of insurance benefits going to an unintended recipient arises in most instances because the veteran simply never gets around to changing his beneficiary, said Shea. In a typical case, the veteran named his mother as beneficiary when he first took out his policy. When he married, he forgot to notify VA that he wished to change his beneficiary. Besides emotional stress, the result often is unwarranted financial hardship, especially for his widow and young children.

The service officer urges any veteran who wishes to ascertain or change his beneficiary to contact his office in the basement of the Court House.

LE Boosters Hold Meeting

The Logan Elm Boosters club met Oct. 14 in the high school with 32 members present.

President Tom Calton discussed Pumpkin Show prizes and David Price gave the prize for band uniforms.

The purchase of a new camera and projector is being planned by the athletes and boosters.

The next meeting of the boosters will be Nov. 11 at 8 p.m. with a tour of the night school on the agenda.

Donna Rutter, 27, 722 S. Washington St., reported to Circleville Police the antenna had been broken from her car between 6 p.m. Tuesday and 1 a.m. Wednesday.

Army Names Airman Honorary Recruiter

HONORARY RECRUITER—Paul Moody, Route 1, Ashville, became the first Pickaway Countian to receive an honorary Recruiter certificate. Making the award is Sgt. William Bradshaw of the local recruiting office, while Sgt. Jerry Hill, left, looks on.

Paul Moody, Route 1, Ashville, was honored Tuesday "for outstanding service contributing to the recruiting effort" of the United States Army by the Pickaway County Army Recruiting office.

He was named an honorary Army recruiter.

The irony of it is that he served through three wars and earned the Silver Star, Bronze Star, and Joint Services Commendation Medal among a raft of other medals and honors in 27 years' service with the Air Force.

He retired in September, 1972, with the rank of senior master sergeant.

His service record includes 19 years of overseas duty and 15 years with NATO forces. Now he works as a nursing assistant at the Veteran's Hospital, Chillicothe.

Local recruiters Sgt. Jerry Hill and Sgt. William Bradshaw presented Moody the award "because he's talked to a lot of kids" about serving in the Armed Forces.

He is at least directly responsible for the recruitment in the Army of four people, including three members of his family.

His son, Paul I. Moody, is currently serving in Ft. Jackson, S.C., after joining in 1973; his nephew, Paul E. Moody, who enlisted at the same time, is serving in Germany; his daughter, Margret, will report in November under the delay entry program; and a friend, Glen Mitchell, will be enlisting next month.

"These are some of the people we have known who have been influenced by Mr. Moody," the recruiters said. He doesn't stress the Army as a branch of service, as he is an obvious authority on the Air Force, but most of the people have opted for that branch of the service.

Moody talks of the services to youngsters "because I feel we should have a strong military force at all times."
